

MINISTERS ASK SCHOOL BOARD NOT TO NAME HEAD WHO SMOKES

SAY ACTION IS NOT FOR CRANSTON

Meeting Held Today Where Clergy of City Issue Statement on Motives

DENY IN POLITICS

Designate As Untrue Statements That Superintendent Back of Move

DENYING THAT THEIR action in appearing before the Santa Ana board of education yesterday and urging the consideration of a moral standard of qualifications for executives and members of the staff of the city schools was actuated by politics, or was in support of Superintendent Cranston, a joint statement was issued today by ministers who signed the petition presented to the board yesterday.

The statement declares that a wrong motive has been imputed to their action, and when asked for an explanation of the "wrong motive," one of the signers answered that there were charges of politics being circulated and insinuations that their action had been sought by Superintendent of Schools Cranston. This, it was stated is absolutely untrue.

The only signers of the original petition who did not sign the statement today were the Rev. U. E. Harding and the Rev. O. W. Reinus, who could not be located, and Nancy Elder, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who was out of the city.

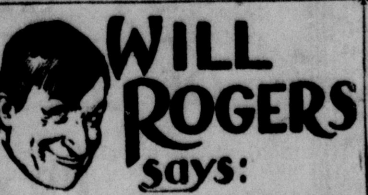

The statement follows: "Inasmuch as a wrong motive has been imputed to us in connection with our appearance before the Board of Education on Tuesday, April 21, in presenting a resolution appealing for a certain moral standard in connection with the selection of superintendent, principals and teachers of the public schools of Santa Ana, we wish to affirm: "That never at any time were we supporting the re-election of Superintendent J. A. Cranston, nor did he either request or suggest such a petition; "We are not advocating the candidacy of any man for the superintendency of our schools; "We re-affirm the attitude expressed in the resolution presented that whoever shall be the superintendent of the schools of our city shall incarnate the principles therein stated.

NEW YORK, April 22.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Just flew in from Washington. Say, aviation is getting somewhere. A plane every hour on the hour between Washington and New York. I told you it looked like a dull night in Washington last night. Say, I run into a D.A.R. convention and those old colonial dames give me one of the wildest nights I have had in years. I got their minds off their ancestors and they are just as human as anybody. Had a long chat with Borah and we fixed up a few loose ends. Mr. Hoover says Sandino will be caught soon. I would hate to run and have that as my issue.

TEUBER DEATH STILL BAFFLES STATE POLICE

Rope Which Was Used Saturday to Hang Nude Girl Best Clew

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 22.—(UP)—The rope which strangled Louise Teuber to death as she dangled, almost nude, from the limb of a black mountain oak tree, gained added significance today as sheriff's officers identified it as part of a sailor's equipment.

The rope, knotted in a half hitch, and the small brown diary of the 17 year old girl were thought to be promising clues to the identity of her slayer.

The diary disclosed the names of many men—sailors, marines and civilians, some of them married—with whom she attended dances and parties.

The rope was similar to that used in tying duffel bags and hammocks aboard ship. The knot, it was claimed, was probably tied by a seaman.

WASHINGTON FIRE TIDEAENS BLOCK

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—Fire early today which for a time threatened an entire congested business block in downtown Washington, was brought under control after three hours. Five alarms brought apparatus from all over Washington.

Three firemen were injured, one perhaps seriously. Struck on the head by a falling timber, he was removed to a hospital for treatment.

The fire, originating in an automobile accessory shop at Ninth and E streets, gained great headway before firemen arrived. It soon spread to a shoe store next door, but was held in check from that point. The accessory store was destroyed, and virtually none of the stock saved.

Drive On Liquor Violators Slated To Begin In July

DENVER, April 22.—(UP)—Plans for a national offensive against violators of the 18th amendment were announced here by Federal Prohibition Director Amos W. Woodcock, who today was inspecting department forces in this district.

Woodcock said that by July 1 the prohibition forces would be increased by 500 men, and that by the middle of that month the new men "would be trained and in the field."

Woodcock said he had ordered all prohibition administrators to survey conditions in their districts and to formulate new plans for enforcement.

COUZENS SAYS GREED CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

Wealthiest Member Congress Says Capitalists Should Change Ideas

(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—Sen. James Couzens, Republican, Michigan, a multi-millionaire, attributes unemployment and attendant ills in the United States to unrestrained greed.

This wealthiest member of congress is convinced the capitalistic system must be put in order by those in charge of it or suffer the consequences of regulation by the people. Although he prays the scheme of private initiative upon which the American business and industry has based its phenomenal development, Couzens says he is beginning to doubt the American people can continue to rely on it.

His ideas illustrate the extent to which he rejects the accepted rich man's philosophy, and similarly rejects claims of the Republican party upon his vote when party principles counter his own ideas. The senator splits his votes between the regular and progressive Republican groups and belongs to neither. The best definition of his political status in the senate is "irregular."

The United Press sought from Couzens the answer to this question: "Who is responsible for that economic strain?"

"I doubt if you can say who is responsible," he replied. "But you can say what is responsible. It is unrestrained greed. And all who are actuated by unrestrained greed share responsibility for these conditions."

"One of the best examples of how these things come about and what is likely to be their development is given in the history of prohibition."

"I used to be police commissioner in Detroit at the time agitation for prohibition was increasing on a national scale. I know I warned brewers and distillers and I know others warned them

STANFORD SENIOR WINS DEBATE MEDAL

PALO ALTO, Calif., April 22.—(UP)—First place in the 38th annual Joffre medal debate between Stanford and the University of California was held today by George Sibley, of Long Beach, a Stanford senior, for his victory in a forensic contest here last night.

Second place was awarded Miss Mary Katherine Morris, of Fallon, Nev. Stanford sophomore, the university's first woman student to enter a Joffre medal contest. Herbert Restor, University of California, was given third place.

Other speakers were George Ackley and Richard Eakon, California, and Irving Rosenblatt, Stanford.

Feline With Legacy Of $15,000 Buried

SAN GABRIEL, Calif., April 22.—(UP)—Mitzu, 18-year-old Persian cat who was the recipient of a $15,000 legacy from her mistress, the late Dr. Maude F. Cain, today was buried under a plum tree in the garden of the only home she had known during her life.

Mitzu lived only six months after her mistress, heart disease causing her death. A certificate of death was filed today, clearing the way for legal moves which will transfer the $15,000 inheritance to Miss Otelia Kuschke, lifelong companion of Dr. Cain, who also received the balance of the estate, estimated at nearly $500,000.

The $15,000 left Mitzu had been placed in trust to provide a home and care for the cat until her death. The will was approved in probate court after a long legal skirmish.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—(UP)—For the wealthy wife of Dr. Isaac Kelley, kidnaped physician, every telephone ring in the Kelley's stone mansion today brought hope that the abductors were ready to approach her for a ransom fee.

Kelley drove his big black car away in a pouring rain Monday night to answer what turned out to be a fictitious emergency call.

Police, however, today had arrested Edward ("Cockey") Leonard, police character, for investigation. He was arrested, police said, when

PUBLISHER HITS RADIO COMPETITION

NEW YORK, April 22.—(UP)—The radio, by "unfair" competition, according to Elzey Roberts, St. Louis Star publisher, is making vast inroads on the revenue of the nation's newspapers and American publishers are "short sighted in recognizing competition as the railroad men were in recognizing bus and truck competition 10 years ago."

Roberts, as chairman of the A. N. P. A. radio committee, told the association convention today in his annual report that competition from radio is so great that newspapers might well discontinue exploitation of broadcasting programs in their columns.

TWO AIRPLANES PLANNING RACE AROUND WORLD

Expect to Hop From Los Angeles May 1 and Return in 10 Days

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—(UP)—Honor and dollars await the winners of a race around the world which will start from here probably May 1.

Four aviators, all noted pilots, who are supervising last minute preparations for the circumnavigation of the globe with a ten day record as the objective, announced today they expected to get away about the first of May.

Competitors in this marathon of the air are John Henry Mears, who has twice broken the around-the-world record; Vance Breese, Wiley Post, veteran speed pilot, and Harold Gatty, who attempted a trans-Pacific flight with Lieut. Harold Bromley.

Post and Gatty, who arrived here late yesterday from Oklahoma City, will fly together as will Mears and Breese.

Mears and Breese have been here for some weeks watching the construction of the Vega plane at the Lockheed Aircraft corporation factory. Post will have larger fuel tanks installed in his monoplane Winnie Mae at the Lockheed plant.

Both planes are expected to be ready for the around-the-world flight at about the same time so that the race will not only be against time but also plane against plane.

The two planes will be able to develop a top speed of 200 miles an hour and cruise at 170 miles under power from 450-horsepower Wasp engines.

Embodied in this sky marathon are the thrills of trans-oceanic hops, quick landings, refueling and take offs and above all the thrill of two planes burning new sky trails at record breaking speeds.

One of the longest ocean hops planned by Post is a nonstop flight of 2340 miles from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to Berlin, Germany. Mears has not yet announced his route, but he may make a shorter flight for the sake of safety over speed and thus avoid possible grief in his attempts to win the race, it was learned.

However, in both cases the fliers will have to make long and daring hops, of which the trans-Pacific flight offers the most difficulties.

U. S. Commissioner Resigns In Quiz Over Bail Money

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—(UP)—Arthur G. Giske, United States commissioner for Northern California and prominent in politics for 30 years, had resigned today during an investigation to trace $1500 in missing bail money.

The resignation was accepted by Federal Judges here, but department of justice agents said an examination of the commissioner's records will continue. The missing $1500 was furnished Fiske more than a year ago by Larry Cole, who later was exonerated on a prohibition charge.

Bob Shuler Is Speaker At Opening

Approximately 750 Delegates at Convention Being Held Here

SPEAKING BEFORE approximately 750 delegates and guests of the Los Angeles District conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, that is being held today and tomorrow at the Spurgeon Memorial church here, the Rev. R. B. (Bob) Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church of Los Angeles, this morning delivered a stirring address at the opening session of the conference.

"Gangsters are dominating our fair country, they are more powerful than the government," the Rev. Mr. Shuler declared in opening his address. "We shall never be able to solve this or other vexatious problems until America accepts Christ," he continued.

"America is in grave danger of making an idol of Jesus, or worshipping Him as if he were a block of wood or a piece of stone. People are amazed at the fact that Gandhi, the Indian leader, is so sincerely impressed with the man, the teacher, Jesus, with his ideals and his standards of living. Gandhi has come to worship Jesus but he has not accepted Him as his personal savior. Herein lies the great danger of the world."

"We are ready to say that Jesus was the greatest teacher, we are ready to try to follow the example He set, we are ready to believe in His philosophy of life, but we are not ready to accept Jesus as our personal savior."

"The world needs but little more emphasis on the teachings of Jesus, it needs to embrace the nature of Jesus. Therein lies the hope of the world. It is a man's relationship to Jesus that counts. If you have His teachings it makes you strong, if you have His nature then He becomes an example in you. Walking in the steps of Jesus is a substitute that is nothing less than a fraud—you must embrace His nature."

"When you are filled with within with the throbs of Jesus' heart, then you can strike mighty blows in His behalf. Christianity has produced marvelous men. This has been made possible by the nature of Jesus."

"We should teach the Bible to the children in the public schools—we should tell them that if they

FRATERNITY BILL PLACED ON FILE

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—(UP)—Fraternalism and sororities for California high schools were given scant consideration in the assembly committee on education today. A bill by Assemblyman Roy Bligh, Oakland, which would legalize such institutions, failed of approval and was placed on file.

A motion to table the bill made by Assemblyman Sam Green, Inglewood, was carried by a six to five vote but lacked the necessary majority of committee votes to definitely kill the measure.

PETITION PRESENTED AT MEETING TUESDAY WOULD SET HIGHEST STANDARD

Twelve Clergymen Appear Before the Board and Seek to Abolish Use of Alcohol and Also Narcotics

Y. W. AND Y. M. HEADS PRESENT

WHEREAS, the National Education Association, at its annual meeting in Detroit, Michigan in February, 1931, heartily adopted the following resolution:

"The National Education Association urged all teachers to emphasize the evil effects of alcoholic drink, tobacco and other narcotics upon the human organism;"

AND WHEREAS, The School Code of California for 1929, under the head of "Rules and Regulations of the State Board of Education," Section III, Paragraph K, Page 394, reads: "Principals and teachers shall exercise careful supervision over the moral conditions in their respective schools. Gambling, immorality, profanity, frequenting public pool rooms; the use of tobacco, narcotics and intoxicating liquors on the school grounds, or elsewhere in violation of state law or local, county, or city ordinances, shall not be tolerated."

Whenever the principal of any school is informed that any pupil attending the school is committing any of the offenses hereinbefore mentioned, the principal shall direct such pupil to appear before him and if, after an opportunity to be heard in his own behalf, the pupil is found guilty of any such offense, he shall forthwith be suspended from school for such period as the principal may determine, not to exceed two weeks."

NOW THEREFORE, We, the undersigned, respectfully call the attention of the Santa Ana Board of Education to the importance of establishing such a standard as a minimum requirement of those who are employed as educational advisors and teachers in the public school system of Santa Ana, and;

We would emphatically urge that our Board of Education adopt such a moral standard of life and conduct as a requirement both in precept and example for all Superintendents, Principals and Teachers in the Santa Ana schools.

"HUDDLES" ARE DISCARDED BY SCHOOL BOARD

REPRESENTING a constituency of between 10,000 and 12,000 church members and attendants in Santa Ana, a delegation of Santa Ana ministers appeared at the first official meeting of the new board of education yesterday afternoon and presented a strong petition asking that the board establish a moral standard of life and conduct as a requirement both in precept and example for all superintendents, principals and teachers in the city school system.

The standards to which they called attention and which they urged the board to consider as a minimum requirement of those employed as educational advisors and teachers in the school system had to do with the use of tobacco, narcotics and alcoholic drink.

Following the presentation of the petition, earnest consideration of which was urged by the group of ministers who were present, and which was promised by W. M. Burke, in a motion made by J. A. Cranston, who has stated he is resigning at the close of his term, July 1, concluding a period of 25 years as head of the city schools. During the discussion on the subject it became evident that the board members had previously determined upon the immediate election of Assistant Superintendent Perow R. Davis to the post as superintendent. It also developed that use of tobacco by Davis was the moot point.

A determined effort was made to put through the election of Dr. Davis in spite of the petition by the moral leaders of the community, by Rolla Hays and Dr. Margaret Baker, and in face of requests by Burke and Marion Youel for more time in which to consider the matter. The matter was finally put over until a special meeting at 7:30 p. m. today.

The petition presented by the ministers pointed out that a resolution adopted by the National Education association in a recent convention called upon all teachers to emphasize the evil effects of alcoholic drink, tobacco and other narcotics upon the human system and that there is a provision in the state school code providing punishment of pupils for use of these things or violation of moral standards as outlined in the code.

ARRANGE SERVICES

Missionary Society Conclave Opens

ENTHUSIASM IS EVIDENCED FOR DISTRICT WORK

A marked enthusiasm for the work undertaken by the societies of the district was evidenced at the morning session of the annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the San Diego district of the Methodist Episcopal church today. Sessions opened at the First Methodist church here and more than 200 women were in attendance.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the local church, opened the meeting at 9:30 a. m. with devotions, taking for his topic, "Strength For Today." Mrs. J. H. Barnhart, district president, was in charge. Mrs. W. B. Snow was organist.

The appointment of two committees resulted in Mrs. Cora Castle, of Long Beach, and Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, of Santa Ana, being named as members of the courtesy committee, and Miss Gertrude Richardson, district treasurer, as the single member of the committee of finance.

Twenty-seven district presidents and Mrs. Horton M. Palmer, of this city, told of victories gained during the past year, and the reports revealed that an increasing interest was being manifested throughout the district. Mrs. S. E. Hearn, of Santa Ana, gave an address on "Stewardship," using three candles on platform to illustrate her talk. The candles have been used by these societies for several years as symbols, the green candle symbolizing prayer, the red, personality, and the purple, possessions. Mrs. Hearn is the secretary of stewardship of the district.

Miss Gertrude Richardson, district treasurer, spoke from the subject, "Building the Altar." Miss Richardson presented numerous interesting facts in regard to financial matters of the society and gave an itemized report of activities. A total of $5889.00 was received the first half of 1930, it was reported.

Miss Annie Laurie White of Nagasaki, Japan, principal of Kwassui college, spoke of building needs of this institution and stressed the fact that the college had been given its required educational rating on the condition that the college build. The rating was given by Imperial Bureau of Education of Japan, the speaker said.

Miss White took as the subject of her talk "The Golden Bowl." Kwassui means "Living Water." Miss White said, and it was on the spot on which the college was built, that many years ago people were obliged to step on a cross which represented the Christian faith and on their refusal to do so, they were put to death.

The speaker told of the courtesy and kindness of the Japanese to Christian workers. The school at Kwassui is 51 years old, she said, and the benches in use are of the same age. "Girls in the college are educated to do evangelistic work," she pointed out.

Mrs. Emma Stroup conducted the quiet hour saying there are two kinds of faith—faith in God and faith in self. In every crisis in past history God has prepared a woman to meet the crisis and at the present time women must meet the crisis through which the world is passing, she declared.

Mrs. Mae Chisholm Brown sang a solo. The platform was filled with baskets of beautiful blossoms and decorations were in charge of Mrs. Francis J. Haynes and Mrs. J. G. Robertson.

PETITION PRESENTED BOARD WOULD ESTABLISH HIGHEST STANDARDS FOR TEACHERS

First United Brethren church; Cecil M. Aker, Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church; U. E. Harding, Church of the Nazarenes; E. W. Matz, First Evangelical church; W. H. McPeak, United Presbyterian church; O. W. Rehnus, Richmond avenue Methodist church; and Samuel Edgar, Reformed Presbyterian church. The petition carried the names of the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, Nancy Elder, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and Ralph C. Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in addition to the men named above as members of the delegation.

After reading the petition, the Rev. Mr. McFarland informed the members of the board that this action was taken as individuals and as the religious and moral leaders of the community and they did not want it regarded as an action by the ministerial association. The petition was received by the board on a motion by W. M. Burke, which also called for giving it the utmost consideration in the spirit in which the petition was presented. His motion was seconded by Marion Youel and unanimously carried.

In commenting on the matter the Rev. Mr. McFarland stated that certain rumors had come to them, that they had investigated in detail and that the petition resulted. He said no names had been mentioned to avoid embarrassment, that they were not attempting to dictate to the board, but were coming in a spirit of friendliness and with sincere purpose. "The best interests of the school children are in the hearts of all," he continued. "We sincerely hope you will give deep consideration to this petition. We are giving our all to keep the standards of the community high and we have no axes to grind. You know why we speak thus."

Dr. Baker then inquired of the group why this matter was brought to the board at this time, stating that the board had just been elected and had the confidence of the people of the community. Hays at this point remarked that personally he had great respect for the petitioning group and he felt the board would uphold standards of efficiency and morals.

Question Answered Dr. Baker's question was answered by the Rev. Mr. McFarland, after first stating that he did not wish to mention any names, as follows:

"We understand that the business for the coming year and the selection of teachers requires that a man shall soon be selected as superintendent of schools for next year. We assumed the board would in the near future select this man. We come with this petition to say that in the consideration of anyone to be elevated to this position at any time, he should qualify as to the standards we set forth in the petition, both in precept and example. The state board requires pupils to do certain things for which they are liable to the supervisors. The leaders should be men and women of the highest type to sustain these things set down for the pupils in the state code." Dr. Baker then stated that the state code did not make these requirements of superintendents, principals and teachers, to which the pastor responded that was quibbling over details.

The Rev. Mr. Owens then suggested that it would be well for the board to satisfy itself as to whether the new superintendent would qualify under the suggestions made by the group, which he felt was a very important matter. He continued, "There is a very strong sentiment in the community on the matter and the matter should be most carefully considered by this board. I have children in the public schools and am thinking, as many other parents are, of the example which should be set by superintendents, principals and teachers."

President George Wells suggested that the man under consideration was regarded as very efficient and able and that it might be exceedingly difficult to find a man for the position who would have those qualifications yet would meet the standards set by the pastors. The Rev. Mr. Buchanan suggested that if an investigation were made by the board it might meet with a surprise.

Ready To Testify The matter was closed by the Rev. Mr. McFarland with the statement that the group had the names of people willing to testify to certain things before the board concerning persons who probably would be under consideration for the appointment and that it was not mere rumor. He also advised that another petition had been prepared by a certain organization in the community which was very drastic and which this organization had planned to present, but that the ministers had headed this off by their petition, which it was believed would save the situation.

After routine matters of business had been disposed of by the board following the departure of the ministers and a decision to keep all actions and considerations of the board open to the public the question of election of a new superintendent was broached when President Wells asked if there was any organization move toward economy or centralizing authority which the board cared to take, to which Hays asked if he meant the election of a superintendent.

Dr. Baker started the discussion with the statement there had been a great deal of turmoil and indecision in the schools and the community, that the atmosphere should be cleared at once and that he believed they should proceed at once to the real business.

At this point Burke injected a demurrer, saying he had been ready to vote on the matter before the meeting opened and before the petition was presented, but that the petition made him feel he wanted to think more about the matter and he did not want to vote on it then. Dr. Baker declared she was ready to vote at once, that she had considered the matter fully although she realized there would be opposition.

Suggestion By Burke The suggestion was then made by Burke that they keep in mind the election of Davis as superintendent, but since the board and superintendent were both elected so near to the same time that it might be advisable to elect Davis acting superintendent for a period of two years with all the duties and prerogatives of superintendent for two years so that the term of the superintendent would come midway between board elections, and thus correct an undesirable condition and keep the superintendent from becoming a ward politician at the time of the board election.

Dr. Baker suggested that she had secured legal advice to the effect that a four year contract could be drawn with a superintendent also having him sign an agreement that he would resign at the end of two years.

Youel then suggested that the petition filed with the board had been prepared by persons who represented more votes than the number which elected members of the board to office and made a motion that the board elect no superintendent but assign the duties of superintendent to the acting superintendent until a superintendent was elected. The motion was seconded by Burke. When put to a vote it was lost on the deciding vote cast by President Wells after a tie vote in which Youel and Burke voted yes and Hays and Dr. Baker voted no.

During the discussion on the question Hays declared he favored the election of a superintendent during that session of the board, that Davis was already here, was a fine qualified man, that he had made a personal investigation of the man in San Bernardino and found he was highly regarded there, that they would not find a better man than Davis, that it was a serious mistake to leave the post vacant, and that leaving it open would cause more strife, turmoil and hard feelings.

Hays also stated it was a chance for the new board to back up the old board and he believed they should do so. He referred to the contract between the old board and Dr. Davis under which he was employed for three years and given to understand he would be made superintendent at the close of Superintendent Cranston's term. "The question of his smoking is all the delegation here today had against him," he said, "and this question is not mentioned in other towns."

"There is no question but that the man smokes," Burke stated. "That doesn't make so much difference to me personally, but here is this group that was before us a little while ago, representing the religious thought of the community and in a large measure controlling public opinion. We voted to consider their request carefully, yet here we are in only an hour about to take action. I like Dr. Davis. He is a particular friend of mine. I don't object to smoking, but I told him I wouldn't smoke if I were superintendent, and I wouldn't. I don't want to fly in the face of public opinion at the start."

Youel declared that he wanted to do what was best for the city schools and that wishes of the people represented by the pastors would have to be considered regardless of whether there would be continued turmoil. He also said he had been called by numerous laymen during the day on the subject.

Wells sought for agreement among the board members and stated when the all around ability of Davis was considered he felt it would balance against his few failings.

After the motion was defeated by the three to two vote, Hays made a motion that Davis be elected superintendent for a four year term beginning July 1, 1931, which was seconded by Dr. Baker.

Burke asserted he was not ready to vote in view of the fact that the board had told the committee of ministers that it would give their request careful consideration. Hays and Dr. Baker asserted that had already given the matter full consideration and had lost sleep over the question. Wells emphasized the importance of obtaining a written agreement from Davis before he was elected, and urged that the matter be laid aside for several days, until details of an agreement could be worked out and a contract drawn. Dr. Baker declared that many petitions would be presented and the board would have to take a stand as to whether it would use its own judgment or defer to every petition that came along. She also asserted the board should decide on what it felt was best for the children of the schools regardless of differences of opinion by different groups in the city.

Upon urging by Wells and Burke that the contract and agreement should be drawn before Davis was elected to the post, Hays finally withdrew his motion on condition that the board would meet at 7:30 p. m. today to consider the subject. A committee consisting of Wells and Dr. Baker was chosen to draw up the contract and agreement.

are not a part of the Tree of Life they are but branches—trash that will be burned. If we do not do this—I can see no hope."

The session this morning was opened with a hymn sung by the Rev. George W. Porman, of Alhambra. Following the hymn the Rev. Porman gave an opening prayer.

The Rev. Grover Carlton Emmons was the presiding elder at the meeting. The Rev. Arthur J. Moore, D.D., LL.D., bishop, who was expected to attend the convention, was not able to be present.

Following the devotional message given by the Rev. Shuler, a short business meeting was held, in which reports of pastors and miscellaneous business were heard.

Later in the morning messages of conference and connectional representatives were heard. The morning session was devoted to opening of the conference and business, principally while the afternoon session will stress Christian education and the evening session will be devoted to emphasis of leading a Christian life.

WIDOW OF WELL KNOWN PIONEER ANSWERS CALL

Death last night removed from the community Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hawley, 85, pioneer citizen of Orange county who had been ill at her home at 1101 French street for the past several years.

She was the widow of the late Alfred E. Hawley, well known Santa Ana sporting goods store proprietor, and had been a resident of Orange county since 1887. She came to California at that time with her husband from New York, her native state, locating first, at Newport Beach. They then came to Santa Ana and have been here for the past 50 years.

Serious illness marked the latter years of her life and she was bed-ridden at the time her husband died, on November 19, of last year.

A WORD OF COMFORT

All around us are people who are perplexed and suffering and in sorrow; they have lost hope. It behooves you, knowing that God loves and sustains you, to do something for them as well as for yourself.

Your faith will grow stronger, your strength will be multiplied, your courage and hope will triumph if by God's help you "keep calm and steady."

INQUEST HELD IN DEATH OF JACK GEESMAN

Details concerning the shooting near El Centro Saturday night, in which Jack Geesman, 18-year-old Santa Ana boy, was instantly killed, were heard here for the first time today following the return from El Centro of the boy's grandfather, Byron Hines, and his uncle, B. B. McCulla, of Tustin.

Geesman and a boy friend with whom he had been working on a ranch near El Centro were mistaken for bandits and Geesman was killed in a shower of bullets fired at the boys by a number of men who had been held up a few minutes previously in a road house.

According to the story brought back here by the boy's relatives, young Geesman, who left Santa Ana just a week ago, secured a position on a ranch last Wednesday at El Centro. He worked until Saturday night and he and a friend he had met started to El Centro to visit the town Saturday night. On their way, they decided to visit the road house, and arrived there just after two bandits had shot the place up in an attempted holdup. Several men in a poker game were held up and these men, armed with pistols, rushed out the front door of the place to cut off the flight of the two bandits who had staged the holdup. Geesman and his friend were mistaken for the men and were fired upon. Geesman was instantly killed when a bullet plowed through the top of his head.

All this information was brought out yesterday at a coroner's inquest, it was stated, at which time men purported to have been in the poker game at the time testified that Geesman had never been seen there before and that they did not know him.

H was a native of Sioux City, Ia., and the body was sent back there for burial yesterday.

While in Santa Ana, where he has lived for the past two years, he was employed by the Gilbert Campbell Printing company, where he was known as a quiet, well-mannered youth, ambitious and studious, according to Campbell.

Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, who is in charge of this work, to secure a portrait of William Schumacher, head of the board preceding Smith.

AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIM PASSES IN S. A. TODAY

R. F. Clark, 77, of 1922 Wedgewood, Temple, Calif., victim of an automobile accident near Dana Point on April 12, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital late yesterday of injuries received at that time.

The body was taken to the Harrell and Brown Funeral parlors, where Coroner Charles D. Brown has called an inquest for 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, after which the body will be taken to Los Angeles for burial.

The accident which cost Clark his life occurred when the machine in which he was riding with his son, William J. Clark, a detective lieutenant on the Los Angeles police force, collided with a car operated by Harold Smith, of 6511 Sixth avenue, Los Angeles.

The father and son both were injured, as were Mrs. R. F. Clark and Miss Louise Clark, and a girl in the machine with Smith. According to an accident report filed at the sheriff's office here, the crash occurred when Smith attempted to make a left turn in the road, his car being struck from the rear by the Clark machine.

Calvin Coolidge Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, April 22—It would be easier to determine who should go to college if the purpose of a college education first were decided. If it be conceded that the purpose is merely to train sufficient leaders in thought for the professions and statescraft then the number should be limited and much emphasis put on proper selection. In that case we should be entirely right in thinking many students are not qualified for such work and so should not see a college degree.

Another conception of education makes it a general preparation for life, a method by which individual existence is broadened and sweetened. This theory sees no reason for confining the colleges to the professions or to those of exceptional capacity. Certainly the world now rewards the trades to an even higher degree than it does some professions. If we would stop thinking that a bachelor of arts must be a white collar man and let him be any kind of man he is adapted to be, the danger of spoiling a good craftsman to make a poor professional man would vanish. The world is too far committed to democracy easily to conclude that we can make an aristocracy of learning. Every life needs more light.

MALCOM TELLS MODERN TREND IN EDUCATION

Defending modern youth and stressing the responsibility of the home in character building, Jack Malcom, principal of the San Juan Capistrano union high school, delivered an address Monday on the public schools week program broadcast over KREG by remote control from the Tustin union high school.

Malcom pointed out that out of the 8000 hours in the year, students are in school less than 1000 hours.

In the introduction of his talk, Malcom contrasted modern schools and educational ideas with those of 50 years ago, pointing out that today young people look at life from a new angle and that in school they are facing problems and solving them just as they will in later life. They are being schooled in practical, everyday affairs, he said.

There have been tremendous increases in high school and college attendance in California in recent years and as a result the schools today are educating boys and girls of all classes. Out of this situation new and perplexing problems arise, Malcom said. The speaker considered the changes in curricula which have been made in attempting to solve modern problems, outlining the development of the junior high school and junior college. He called attention to the vocational training which has been put into motion and the work that has been done in the connection in curtailing the number of students who drop out of school before they finish, as well as providing practical training for those who do not complete their school work.

In referring to the junior college, Malcom said:

"It is the people's college and as such will do much for the citizenry of any community. I hope that the day is not far distant when we shall have a county junior college in Orange county."

Malcom, in discussing modern youth, admitted that "we see girls now and then smoking cigarettes, young sheiks with their hair slicked back and well axle-greased and with balloon trousers so wide they have to take two steps before the trousers move." But he declared that on the whole the large body of young people are serious minded and are shouldering the responsibilities of citizenship in an admirable manner.

"When we study the age in which we are living, when we study the environment into which our young people are thrust, we marvel not how bad they are but rather how good they are under present conditions. . . . I am one of those who believe that, were it possible to transfer the boy and girl of 50 years ago and set them down in our present environment they would be no better than our boys and girls of today."

Malcom analyzed the various modern inventions and modes of life which he said were partly responsible for the changed moral tendencies of today.

"We are not unmindful of the fact that 80 per cent of the criminals of New York state last year were between the ages of 20 and 28, but again I reiterate that youth is not entirely to blame. According to the children's bureau of Washington, figures of 1925 show a decrease of juvenile delinquency of 100,000 less than in 1915. This, coming in a decade permeated with chaos and turmoil, causes one to feel that we are on the upgrade."

Malcom stated that the home should be the starting point in any movement involving character training. It is true that the school can help, he said, but the task is squarely up to the home.

"If America is to remain the leader of the world, the American home must remain intact and live up to its full responsibilities.

"In conclusion, let me say that I have great faith in the young people of today. I have faith in their sense of justice. I have faith in their judgment. I have faith in their belief in things divine; and fortified in this great struggle of life as they should be, by the home, by the school and the church, they will rise to the mountain tops and we may well be assured that the good old ship of state for the next 50 years and for time to come will be guided by safe hands."

Court Notes

Four answers were filed today to the condemnation suit filed by the people of the state of California in connection with obtaining possession of lands near Huntington Beach as a site for a state park. Answers were filed by the Mills Land and Water company, Willow Land company, A. C. Thorpe and a group of individuals.

FOREIGN WORK OF Y. M. C. A. IS TOLD BY BARR

O. H. Barr, chairman of the foreign work committee of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., member of the state council, and of the national council of the Y. M. C. A., and active worker in all lines of association activity, has prepared the following statement on the foreign work of the American Y. M. C. A. in connection with the observance of the seventh anniversary of the local Y. This will be of especial interest to the people of this community who are accustomed to make contributions to the support of the foreign department, according to Ralph Smedley, secretary.

"In all the varied programs of the Young Men's Christian association possibly the very greatest results per man and per dollar expended are in the Foreign Work department. This work has now become sufficiently established and appreciated that the money required for any buildings and expense budgets is in most cases provided by the native people, so that our National Council has only to supply leadership and pay the expense of maintaining the few American secretaries in those lands in which we work.

"Contact of these American Y leaders with the political and business leadership in foreign lands is exceedingly important in promoting good will and mutual understanding between our own country and these foreign countries, now numbering more than 30, where the Association carries on its program of physical education and spiritual leadership. So important is this service that any move to withdraw would call forth serious protest from the native workers and financial supporters, and would result in great detriment to the work.

"Captain Robert Dollar, our great Californian, outstanding in the shipping world, as well as many other business men whose world-wide activities and travels give them the best opportunity for observation and examination, all commend the work and many such men are among its best contributors. A singularly uniform testimony comes from China of late, from both Chinese and foreigners, that one of the substantial hopes of saving the students, and hence the leaders of that people, from stark materialism in its worst forms, rests in the Young Men's Christian association.

"Dr. E. Stanley Jones places this appraisal on the association in India: 'The movement has quickly naturalized itself in the life of India and is at grips with the desperate needs of the life of youth in this land. Practically every movement that has arisen in India has been forced to pattern itself after the Y. M. C. A. But all these other movements lack the driving, dynamic and the moral and spiritual earnestness of the Young Men's Christian association. I know of no movement for youth in India that can be compared with the Y. M. C. A. The old sanctions of life are giving way, and we must put in the soul of youth new sanctions after the pattern of Jesus Christ, or we will fall India in this time of breaking up. Never was the Y. M. C. A. more needed than now, and never did money bring forth more far-reaching results than at present.'

"The president of China personally contributes substantially to the movement, and numerous governors of provinces and other officials have shown marked regard for the program of the association in this period of national reconstruction. The president of Mexico is another liberal contributor to the association, and his government this year has borrowed the Y. M. C. A. physical director of Mexico City to promote its program of general physical education.

"If space permitted, similar statements could be made from all of the countries in which the American Y. M. C. A. has projected its program of activity and service. Local interest is added to the foreign work by reason of the fact that Ralph G. Cole, a much loved former Orange county Y secretary, is just completing a three-year period of service at Geneva with the World's committee, introducing in Europe programs of boys' work similar to those he successfully launched in California when he was state boys' work secretary with us.

"Mr. Cole has recently been called to the general secretaryship of the Young Men's Christian association in the Hawaiian islands, where he will have charge of a truly cosmopolitan work. He is being succeeded at Geneva by Charles Tidball, another Santa Ana boy, who has been in foreign work of the Y. M. C. A. since the days of the World war. Mr. Tidball, members of whose family are residents of our community, served for some years as national secretary of Czechoslovakia, where he

"It is a great privilege for those of us who are not able to leave home to do such work for the youth of the world, to be able to send our representatives, and to help with their support, as they carry the ideals of the Y. M. C. A. in friendship and service to nations which so greatly need it. There is no greater field of usefulness in all our association program than that represented by our foreign workers."

DR. JOHN BALL TALKS BEFORE SCHOOL BOARD

Dr. John Ball, president of the retiring board of education, was present at the organization meeting of the new board in the school administration offices yesterday afternoon and advised the board in several respects concerning methods of organization.

Upon the invitation of George Wells, the new head of the board, Dr. Ball made a short statement prior to his departure, in which he advised that a member of the board be sent to future meetings of the superintendents' section of the National Education association, which he attended in Detroit last February, remarking that it served to put the board in close touch with leading school men and problems.

Another suggestion made was that the board look to the state university for advice on educational problems, calling attention to the fact that some cities in the state were aided greatly through their contacts with the state university on these matters. Consideration of the county junior college survey also was recommended by Dr. Ball, who declared that the question of the junior college and the 6-4-4 plan must be decided and that intelligent information would be needed to guide those making the decision.

President Wells expressed to Dr. Ball the appreciation of the board for his assistance and interest, and advised that the group probably would call him in for consultation frequently.

When dining tables first came into use, diners reclined on them and ate with their fingers.

EXPERT IS TO MAKE DESSERTS AT S. A. STORE

Miss Alice Robertson, prominent Los Angeles home economist, will give a demonstration and instruct all who may be interested in the art of making icebox puddings, ice creams, colored ice cubes and other icebox desserts and salads, at the William LeVecke showrooms, 420 North Broadway, Thursday at 2:15 p. m.

In addition Miss Robertson will demonstrate and explain how food may be saved by the use of mechanical refrigeration.

Miss Robertson frequently appears in food demonstration programs with Prudence Penny and Kate Vaughn, both well-known Los Angeles instructors in the art of cooking and home economics.

Yesterday's Register carried a list of desserts and salads which Miss Robertson will actually make tomorrow afternoon.

Although icebox desserts may be thought a luxury, the General Electric refrigerator pays for itself, said LeVecke, who is giving as a door prize a basket of groceries which demonstrates, he says, the saving each housewife can effect each week with a refrigerator of the General Electric type.

"Our Silent Hostess Treasure Book," containing recipes for frozen salads and desserts and other favors will be awarded those who attend this free demonstration.

27 ENTER CLASS IN LIP READING

The afternoon class will continue to meet in the Julia Lathrop school at 1:30 o'clock each Tuesday and Thursday, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education in Santa Ana.

CAMP REUNION IS STAGED BY Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Y. M. C. A. boys and their fathers assembled last night for their annual camp reunion, celebrating the joys of past camps, and looking forward to the coming season at Osceola.

A barbecued dinner started the proceedings in proper style, and the program which followed was presented around the campfire, simulating the regular camp surroundings. T. P. McKee was the song leader for a period of camp songs which carried the boys, both old and young, to the nights around the fire at Osceola and Catalina.

Stories of the camp at Catalina in earlier days were told by Ralph Raitt, Coleman Hickey, Martin Warren and Dr. G. E. Raitt, while the story of Camp Osceola was related by R. H. McArthur.

A special edition of the "Osceola Grumbler" was presented by Edith Franklin Burke. The "Grumbler" is the daily newspaper of the summer camp, and this special edition was put out carrying news, pokes and information both old and new, as a part of the campfire effect. Its columns carried items from the days when the Catalina campers lost a big kitchen range in the ocean, down to last summer's exploits at Osceola, and the reading ended with delight by the audience.

The 1930 camp emblems were awarded to a large number of boys, the presentation being made by Edward Gaeb.

Harold Lutes served as bugler, his accustomed task at camp. The "Knights of the Rag," honor society of the camp, aided in serving the dinner.

Following the program, reservations for the coming camp at Osceola were in order, and about 30 boys signed up for places, and received their snappy "Camp Caps" which distinguish them as being all set for camp this year. The names on the list of registrations are Charles Crosby, Chick Shields, Hubert Nall, William Lamm, Philip Lamm, John Beeson, W. A. Nichols, Howard Piper, Howard Quigley, William Semmacher, Paul Cleary, John Cleary Jr., Dick Horton, Robert Rice, Wilbur Knight, Ferris Wall, Bud Harwood, Allen Flagg, Byron Curry, Robert Horseman.

James Wallace To Answer April 17

James Benton Wallace, held on a charge of non support, today was given until April 17, to answer to arraignment, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

He was arrested by Sheriff's officers several days ago near Seventh and Bush streets, after a chase and was lodged in the same jail where his twin-brother, Ray Wallace also is being held on a non-support charge.

The first railroad track was 23 miles in length and was the property of the Baltimore and Ohio.

GOVERNOR WILL ACCEPT DOHENY PARK PROPERTY

Governor James Rolph will accept Doheny park for the state of California at a ceremony scheduled for May 17, it was announced at the session of the Orange County Coast association, at San Clemente last night. A committee consisting of S. H. Woodruff, Frank Champlin, J. P. Greeley, Thomas Murphy, John Foster, Tom Talbert, Jess Armitage, High O'Connor and P. A. Stanton was named to greet the governor.

The association adopted a resolution asking the governor to appoint a commission to protect, develop and conserve the beaches of California.

It was voted to wire Sen. Nels Edwards to oppose assembly bills 218 and 1904, described as assessment bills and which, it was asserted, would retard the development of beach communities.

The association is making progress in its plan to raise a fund of $15,000 for advertising Orange county beaches, approximately $10,000 having been raised to date, it was stated.

O. T. Stephens, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, said that his association is working for water conservation, harbor development and state parks.

The good will tour of the coast group will get under way at San Juan Capistrano May 8 and end May 10. Overnight stops will be made at Riverside and San Bernardino.

Arthur M. Ellis, Los Angeles, tax expert, outlined tax conditions in California.

THE STORY THUS FAR

From a San Jose banker, Dan McNamara, San Francisco Chief of Police, learned that the girl he knew as Nance Belden, who had just escaped from San Quentin penitentiary, was Penelope Gatlin, heiress to $750,000. McNamara had become interested in her because he thought this girl, with a terribly disfigured "riddle" nose, was not a real criminal but a case for a psychiatrist, and had taken her to Dr. Stephen Burt. Both the doctor and his faithful office nurse Lanny had been won to Nance's cause, despite her hard-boiled exterior, and Dr. Burt testified that an unhappy childhood had left her with a dual personality. But she was sent to prison as a thief. Lanny visited her and innocently smuggled out a letter. Nance escaped and she and one of her underworld friends were shot as she swam out from the prison walls to a speed-boat. They went to Lanny's home and McNamara took them there. The banker told McNamara that just after the wealthy Theodore Gatlin had been divorced, his former wife plotted to murder him. Penelope to Europe, immediately after the child's nose was badly injured. Gatlin sold his business, wanted all to search for her when he was killed in a taxi accident. What the banker and police chief did not know was that Gatlin had adopted Penelope as a foundling against his wife's wishes and that the child had been reared in an atmosphere of semi-insanity after Gatlin's death. The banker did not know Penelope's whereabouts but she drew checks sporadically. Mrs. Gatlin was now the wife of a man named Mercton. McNamara ordered Detective Sergeant Flynn and Angelotti, who wanted the reward for Nance's capture, to "lay off" Lanny, whom they suspected of harboring Nance. When they trailed Dr. Burt to McNamara's home, Nance's pals saw them and the three fled.

INSTALLMENT 15

Dr. Burt was suddenly serious. "I do hope we haven't lost Nance. Dan, she's the most interesting psychological case I've ever seen."

"She ain't lost, but I'll bet a cookie she's well hid. But I'll locate her within twelve hours," Chief McNamara added, thinking of Ella Cates.

"I've run Nance's early history down since I saw her last. Doc," he announced suddenly. "I got busy the other day and luck was with me. She's an heiress and her name is Penelope Gatlin. She got it in the nose by a baseball—a long fly into the bleachers. But I also discovered something else. It's a question whether she ain't just a natural nut. Her mother is a religious fanatic—the sort that thinks it can cure a busted nose by faith. She had Gatlin a hell of a life."

"No, I don't think it's congenial, Dan. There's something about that girl that's healthy—mentally and physically. Did you meet her mother?"

"No, but I'm going to. I'll run her down easy enough."

Stephen sighed. "Oh, poor Nance! I'm afraid she's beyond my skill after all. A bad family history, Mac—very bad. There's a structural weakness in some families that never gets bred out, and I suspect poor Nance has an inheritance of mental instability from her mother."

"Well, with that busted nose, her inheritance and her hell-cat mother, she certainly had a fine start on the road to the foolish farm, didn't she, Doc? Excuse me, there's the telephone."

Lanny was calling. "Dan," she quavered, "my house has been burglarized. They jimmied the back door, and for all I know the burglars are upstairs still. I'm watching the staircase—got my pistol covering it. Come over quick, Dan—please."

"Coming right away, Lanny." He hung up and faced Stephen. "Lanny has burglars. Into your car, boy, and we'll beat it over."

Lanny, very white and shaken, was in her living-room, pistol in hand, watching the stairs, when McNamara and Stephen came noiselessly in the back door. The chief whipped out his pistol and went unhesitatingly up the stairs. Presently he called to them to come up.

They found him standing in the doorway leading into Lanny's guest-chamber. "Take a look at that," he ordered.

They looked. Lying in the bed, sound asleep, was Nance Belden! McNamara switched off the light and softly closed the door. With his great head clasped in both huge hands, he went down the stairs to the living-room. "Doc," he pleaded, "those loony now? I think I am because I'm seeing things that ain't in the book. Ocho, ocho, and wira, wira, the fairies have me in tow!"

"Got to get her out of here," Dan McNamara decided. "Flynn and Angelotti finally got on her trail, no doubt about that—and it's a mighty cold trail those two dicks can't follow. I suspected this, and the note she left at my house confirms it. It's just the mercy of God that Flynn and Angelotti didn't happen to slip into my domicile and find the note. If they had I'd be sunk. They can suspect all they want to, but hanging it on to me is another pair of boots, as the French say."

"Why, they wouldn't dare invade their own chief's house," Lanny protested.

"They wouldn't? You don't know those two bozos like I do. They'd dare anything if they figured they could get away with it."

"Can't you give the miserable snoopers an office job?" Lanny demanded. She was faintly provoked at Daniel for his lack of initiative.

"Would you herd cows with a couple of horses that had won the Derby?"

"Oh!"

"Wake that psychopathic nuisance up, Lanny, and get her down here. I've got to find out things or go crazy. Besides, she hasn't had any dinner."

"Let the poor lamb sleep, Dan," pleaded Lanny.

"I need a lot of sleep myself and I can't get it until I know how, when and where Nance and her gang made the getaway. Suppose Flynn and Angelotti let them make the getaway; suppose Flynn followed the men and Angelotti followed Nance? They'd do that; they wouldn't risk getting in Dutch with me by making the pinch as the gang came out of my house. They have some loyalty and a lot of common sense, and they know which side their bread is buttered on. When they take the girl they'll not turn her in to me. They'll wait her straight back to San Quentin to the warden and let his men get the credit for recapturing her. All they want is the reward. Suppose they know she's here now and suppose they've seen me come here? Ouch! Murderation!"

"Have her down, Lanny," Stephen commanded in his operating-room voice, and she had no alternative save to obey. So presently Nance came down the stairs with her. The girl was arrayed in an old wadded dressing-gown of Lanny's; her hair was tousled, and she yawned sleepily.

"Hello, Steve, old darling; hello, Dan, you great big beautiful thing. Here I am."

"Sit down," McNamara invited in honeyed accents.

So Nance sat down promptly—on his tremendous knees—put her arm around his burly neck and kissed him. "Now, don't get excited," she cooed. "I know exactly what's burning you up, but you needn't worry. One of the boys recognized Flynn and I recognized Angelotti, because he's the dick that pinched me the first time I got in Dutch. They kept circling the block in their car all the afternoon, and when it was almost dark, we saw Flynn go into an alley alongside a vacant house across the street. We decided Angelotti had gone home for dinner. So we went home burning. I know exactly what he said that he was eating his dinner, and unless it was important to call up in fifteen minutes, so we said it wasn't important, hung up and held a conference."

"We decided the back of the house wasn't guarded, so we telephoned the boy friend that met us at the yacht harbor that night, and he came and parked in the next street. We went out your back door, leaving the light in the front room burning, and shimmied over the back fence. Some job for two members of the party, I'll say. Once over the fence we had to prowl through the back yard of the house that abuts against the rear of your house—and a dog bit me, but not very hard. We got out in front and into the next street before anybody could come out and see what luck the dog had had; our car was there and we beat it. We're pretty sure nobody followed us, but we drove out to the park first with our lights doused, and when we were sure nobody was trailing us, the boys said goodbye to me for keeps. It seems you don't want me associating with them any more and they think you're right about that, Dan."

"Did your men scout the street in front of this house before pulling up in front of it?" asked McNamara sharply.

"Certainly. We circled the block twice."

"Feed our Nance, Lanny," McNamara urged happily. "She's a smart girl. How's the shoulder, dearie?"

"Fine. It'll be O. K. in another week."

"So am I," Mr. McNamara grinned happily. "Flynn's home eating his dinner now, and Angelotti must be on guard in that alley. I'm going to mistake Angelotti for a suspicious character, lurking there in the dark—and put a mark on him so I can recognize him later. He just can't stand to mix it with me, and get recognized, of course, so when he runs I'll fire in the air. He'll know who I am but he'll never suspect I know who he is."

GIRLS ARE TO BAKE CAKES IN CONTEST HERE

A high school contest, unique in the history of Southern California high school circles—is on at full tilt between the Girls' leagues of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. Those who have had the mistaken impression that the present generation of girls was veering away from the feminine arts which have been handed down from mother to daughter since the foundation of mankind are getting the shock of their lives, according to those who have watched the developments in a series of cake-baking contests which already have been held by the girls in a number of Southern California high schools.

Of particular interest in Santa Ana is a silver cup contest in cake baking which the Girls' league of the Santa Ana high school announced today.

The contest is to be held on Saturday, May 2. Prizes totaling $25 to the girls who bake the four best cakes have been offered by the management of Southern Counties Gas company. Prize winners will be determined by a committee of judges headed by Kate Brew Vaughn who has a national reputation as a domestic science expert.

Following the selection of the prize winning cakes, all of the cakes entered will be sold to the public at the offices of the gas company, 207 West Second street. All of the proceeds from the sale will go to the treasury of the Girls' league and will be then turned over by the league to the high school students loan fund.

At the assembly yesterday Principal D. K. Hammond, Miss Esther Couch, Girls' league advisor, and Arline Crawford, president of the league, delivered short talks in which it was pointed out that Santa Ana girls were just as good cake bakers as may be found in any high school, and probably a little bit better.

A cup, offered by the gas company, will go to the high school Girls' league which actually bakes the largest number of cakes in proportion to the enrollment. The contest is open to Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. Anaheim had its contest last Saturday and 143 cakes were baked among a total enrollment of girls of approximately 150. Fullerton will have its contest next Saturday, April 25, and Orange and Santa Ana will have its contest on May 2.

In the contests previously held, at Monrovia, Ontario, Whittier and Anaheim high schools, the leagues in each school have added amounts ranging from $104 to $120 to their league treasuries. It is expected that Santa Ana will exceed this amount.

Already the Santa Ana league has received an offer of $15 for the prize winning cake. It came from F. S. Wade, president of the gas company. The second, third and fourth prize cakes are expected to bring prices ranging from $3 to $10. The remaining cakes will be sold at various amounts ranging from 50 cents to $1.

All of the business connected with the contest, the promulgation of rules, the selection of judges, the actual sale of the cakes and handling the financial returns, will be conducted by the Girls' league, headed by Arline Crawford, president; Dolly Boyle, vice president, and Marion Brownridge, assisted by Miss Couch.

C. E. Rutledge, district manager for the gas company, has given the league every assurance of complete co-operation. The display floor of the company's district headquarters will be cleared, on the day of the sale, for the placing of tables, on which the cakes will be displayed. The company will also advertise the sale in The Register, calling attention of the public to the fine quality of cakes that will be offered. "There appears to be no doubt about it," remarked the spokesman, "for an enthusiastic group of girls. Saturday, May 2, will be 'cake day' in Santa Ana. And they will be good cakes, too."

SURPRISE PLANNED FOR BREAKFASTERS

A surprise program for the session of the Breakfast club at Ketter's cafe Thursday morning is being arranged by the program committee, composed of Mayor John Knox, new councilman from the second ward, and Clyde Downing, new city attorney.

Details of the program were not announced but the committee intimated that it would be of considerable interest to those in attendance. Music for the occasion is being arranged by D. C. Cianfoni. Several special guests have been invited to be present for the occasion, and a large turnout is expected.

It is anticipated that the new officials may announce policies and programs of the new city administration.

ARTISTS TO PLAY ON WOMAN'S HOUR

Entertainment for the Women's hour to be broadcast over KREG tomorrow will be provided by George Evans, violinist, Adelaide Proctor, pianist, and Mabel Wilkinson, pianist and singer. The program will be on the air from 10 to 10:30 a. m. The three artists are members of the Institute of Musical Education.

The Women's hour is conducted by Genevieve Knox. Each day she brings information about a group of Orange county merchants and also tells valuable household hints.

YODELING COWBOY TO PLAY TONIGHT ON KREG PROGRAM

Earl Davis, Santa Ana's yodeling cowboy, will be on the air tonight over KREG with a 15 minute program of harmony of the type for which he is well known in radio circles. His broadcast will be heard from 7 to 7:15 p. m.

Other features of the entertainment tonight will be the children's hour, directed by Lorene Croddy, which will be heard from 5 to 5:30 p. m.; the Churchill sisters, on the air from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.; an hour of Spanish music, from 8 to 9 p. m., and a program by E. W. Buck's Moose orchestra, from 9 to 10 p. m. The Shoppers' Guide will be on the air from 6 to 6:45 p. m. and from 6:45 to 7 p. m. the Radio Guide and news will be broadcast.

NEW PIANO ADDS ENJOYMENT TO KREG MUSICAL PROGRAMS

Listen—and you'll hear the clear, mellow tones of a new Bechstein piano just installed in the studio of KREG. The new instrument was brought to the studio yesterday by the Danz Music company, located in the Arcade building on North Main street, and it went on the air last night.

Many listeners noted the advent of the new piano last night, for it was used for the first time on the evening program yesterday. Clear as crystal, yet mellow, each note on the piano stands out with staccato emphasis if the artist so desires, or blends harmoniously with others when that effect is desired. The instrument from the Danz Music company store will bring new interest and enjoyment to KREG listeners, for its unexcelled tones will play a large part in making the radio programs better and better.

Spanish Music On Request Program

An hour of Spanish music will be presented over KREG tonight by the Jesus Rojar quintet. The broadcast will be on the air from 8 to 9 p. m. and will be a request program. The musicians play stringed instruments and their entertainment will include waltzes, tangos, polkas and marches. The quintet is composed of Jesus Rojar, violinist; Martin Rocha, violinist; Rosendo Carrillo, cello and guitar player; Salvador R. Sanchez, guitar player; Juan Carranza, bass, and Miguel Carrillo, violinist.

Mystery Voice Puzzles Radio Station

The management of KREG is trying to solve a puzzle—the puzzle of the mysterious voice, it was announced today.

At about 2 p. m. one day in the latter part of February a woman telephoned the studio. Her name is not known. However, it is not her voice with which the mystery is connected. It is the unknown voice which she said she heard broadcasting on the same wave length used by KREG. She said the mysterious voice on the air was repeating the phrase, "KREG, one, two, three, four."

The management is desirous of getting in touch again with the woman who telephoned about "The Voice."

TELLS REASONS WHY CHILDREN REFUSE TO EAT

Dr. Edward Lee Russell, director of the child hygiene division of the Orange county health department, spoke over KREG last night on "The Hunger Striking Child." The address was the first of two which Dr. Russell plans on this topic. The next will be given next Tuesday night.

Pointing out that the problem is one that has worried many families, Dr. Russell said, "When coaxing fails, bribes and threats follow and the domestic scene becomes one of perpetual discord and turmoil. With this, Mother's hair begins to get gray and Father takes a walk to soothe his frayed nerves. But all this does not solve the problem."

Dr. Russell pointed out that in general there are four causes of failure to eat, these being physical defects, fatigue and excitement, behavior difficulties and faulty meal routine.

"Probably 10 to 15 per cent of failure to eat is due to physical defects such as chronically infected tonsils, infected nasal sinuses, ear trouble, pulmonary tuberculosis and chronic constipation," the speaker said. "Much of the failure to eat due to physical causes dates to previous contagious infections such as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria and whooping cough. I have had a large number of mothers give the history that their children ate well until they had whooping cough, measles or some other contagious diseases. The nervous, irritable state plus the lowered resistance and increased susceptibility to infections which follow many of these diseases very seriously handicaps normal digestion and inhibits appetite. Many of these children eat so poorly that their recovery is delayed and repeated infections tend to keep them below par. With this, their situation simulates that of the man who 'couldn't get up for being knocked down.' The younger the child is, the more liable he is to be a victim of this situation."

"I believe that this is evidence enough in favor of careful isolation of contagious cases and the protection of every child from all the diseases to which he may, at present, be protected. I know that this is proof enough to condemn the wanton exposure of children to diseases which, at best, always do harm and never do good. Aside from the death rate and the immediate complications, the contagious diseases are the great debilitators of childhood. Constipation, either complete or merely as delayed elimination, is one of the most frequent causes of reduced appetite in infancy and childhood. The growing child's high rate of exchange (technically called basal metabolism) necessitates a high intake, and the high intake, in turn, makes prompt and adequate elimination imperative. Many mothers are inclined to consider only absolute failure to have a bowel movement as constipation, when far more children suffer from delayed elimination than from absolute constipation. I have seen a large number of children who have the bowel movement today that they should have had yesterday."

"There are many other cases in which some of the other causes of failure to eat have physical handicaps as the irritating and original causes of the trouble. Obviously, where physical defects are wholly or in part responsible for the child's failure to eat, a satisfactory result cannot be obtained without correction of these defects. It will require the skill of your family physician to recognize and evaluate the effect that certain physical difficulties may be having on your child's appetite."

"Fatigue, the second cause mentioned, is one of the most frequent causes of reduced appetite in childhood. Few of us, as parents, fully realize the tremendous physical pace that the child sets for himself, particularly if he is playing with children larger and older than himself. The fact that he does not get over the ground so rapidly does not mean that he is not exerting himself with all the strength he has. Excessive physical exertion and the associated emotional excitement inhibits gastric and intestinal secretion and the child's lack of appetite under these conditions is merely nature's defense. Nature is not willing to have food put into a stomach and intestinal tract that is not ready to handle it."

—Adv.

The unfortunate thing about fatigue is that it reduces the intake for energy, tissue repair and growth with the result that fatigue follows again. In other words, the more fatigued they are, the less they eat, and the less they eat the more easily they become fatigued. It is a vicious cycle. The solution of the problem of fatigue in relation to failure to eat is easy but it is seldom thought of.

"If the child is called in for 30-45 minutes before meal time and allowed to 'indulge in quiet play such as cutting out pictures, looking at magazines or reading books' for the older children, the child usually will eat much better. Even the child with physical defects will increase his intake under this regime."

BUILDERS OF CALIFORNIA

"hello London
California
speaking."

In 1/30 of a second, your voice flashes across continent and ocean. Another modern miracle!

ASTONISHING, too, are these communication facts: This state has more than 6,150,000 miles of transmission lines—in addition to ever-expanding radio facilities. And Californians transmit approximately 7 million telephone calls, telegrams and commercial radio messages daily.

Communication companies in California have invested $413,000,000 and employ some 40,300 workers.

Of these employees, more than 10,000 are Bank of America depositors. And this Bank is privileged to serve the leading telephone, telegraph and commercial radio companies operating in California.

With their far-flung organizations, these companies require exceptional statewide banking facilities. Conservatively managed and charged with great responsibility to government and public, they choose their banking connections with extreme care.

Especially significant, therefore, is the selection of Bank of America by these leaders in public service—and by so many thousands of their employees. Do not these facts suggest the most desirable bank for you?

SANTA ANA STARS DEFEAT WHITTIER, 2-0

TY COBB AND FAMILY IN HAPPIER DAYS

Twenty-three years of married life may end in the divorce court for Mr. and Mrs. Tyrus Raymond Cobb, shown with their children in this picture taken shortly after the former major league star's retirement from baseball. Charging cruelty, Mrs. Cobb has filed suit against her husband at Augusta, Ga. Left to right are Shirley Cobb, Mrs. Ty Cobb, Herschell and Jimmy Cobb, Ty Cobb, Beverly Cobb, and Ty Cobb Jr.

THE YEARS FORGET

The years are forgetful, and perhaps it is just as well. Not only are the years forgetful, but sometimes eccentric people known as fight fans also have short memories. Perhaps that's just as well, too. At least, for Joe Jacobs.

Eight years ago, Joe, manager of the present heavyweight champion of the world, Max Schmeling, went to Columbus, Ga., with his light-heavyweight champion, the venerable Mike McTigue. Mike was to fight Young Stribling, then a promising light-heavyweight.

JOE SEES THE FORESTS

Mr. Jacobs, once on the scene of the battle, did not like the way things looked. The Georgia were enthusiastic for Stribling, a little too enthusiastic, Joe thought. There had been several nocturnal necktie parties in the neighborhood sometime previous, Joe was told, and some of the solid citizens of Columbus even took pains to show Joe the very trees where the amenities had been conducted.

Mr. Jacobs was all for canceling the match. It just happened that McTigue "fractured" his hand a day before the fight was to occur. However, the promoters of the match insisted that a committee of physicians examine Mike's ailing member and they could find nothing wrong with the McTigue mauler.

When the report got around that Joe and Mike were trying to run out of the match, there was, to put it mildly, some unrest among the fight populace. A committee waited upon Joe and told him to go ahead and fight or else. Joe remembered the trees, and the fight went on.

ERTLE CHANGES MIND

Harry Ertle was the referee.

The fight populace, to start with, was mildly suspicious of Ertle, whose home was in New Jersey and it was said he was very close to Joe and Mike. There was even a story about that Ertle had accompanied Mike and Joe to Columbus to see that Mike got not any the worst of it.

The fight turned out to be a classic. It will be remembered as "the battle of the four decisions." It went the limit, 10 rounds, and Ertle, after looking around the ringside where sat some very earnest-looking men, called it a draw. Whereupon, the earnest-looking men became even more earnest-looking than that.

A demonstration that might have been called hostile ensued. Mr. Ertle thought it all over carefully, remembered about those trees, and decided that Oh well, after all maybe Stribling did win, at that.

Police took Harry and Joe and Mike to their hotel. They lost no time whatever at the hotel, setting what is believed to be a world record in checking out. An automobile carried them to Atlanta. Here, Mr. Ertle thought the fight all over again and finally convinced himself that the boys was a draw after all. It wasn't until the train was pulling into New York City that Ertle told some of his friends that he had previous opinions had been so much guesswork, and that McTigue had won the fight going away.

You would think Mr. Jacobs had seen all he cared to see in Columbus, Ga. But this year on the Schmeling "detour" of the south, Joe took his champion to Columbus. He was met at the city's gates by a welcoming com-

LANDIS VICTOR IN LEGAL ROW WITH BROWNS

CHICAGO, April 22.—Victorious in the first case involving a test of his authority, Kenesaw Mountain Landis today was more firmly entrenched than ever before as czar of organized baseball.

Landis' authority as the supreme dictator of baseball was upheld in a federal court ruling handed down yesterday by Judge Walter C. Lindley in the Fred Bennett case. Judge Lindley ruled that Landis had acted clearly within his rights when he declared Outfielder Bennett a free agent last summer.

The decision was made in a suit brought by the St. Louis Browns and Milwaukee Brewers, who questioned Landis' power to declare any player a free agent. Judge Lindley ruled that the situation resulting in the loss of player Bennett's services was clearly one of the St. Louis club's own making in violating the rules of organized baseball by attempting to transfer the player for the third successive year to a minor league club without asking major league waivers on him.

That the St. Louis and Milwaukee clubs will continue their fight to overthrow the power of Landis was indicated today when Attorney Guy C. Peters said he planned to take the case to the circuit court of appeals.

Judge Lindley's ruling leaves Bennett who has been idle pending the decision free to negotiate with any major or minor league club for his services.

Backed by the federal court ruling, Landis can now continue his war against "chain store baseball," long called by the commissioner the deadliest enemy of the national game.

The Athletics suffered their fifth defeat in seven games yesterday when they lost to the New York Yankees, 12 to 1.

A's Slow To Hit Real Stride

MACK PITCHERS FLOP. BATSMEN EASY TO FOOL

BY COPELAND C. BURG
(N. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 22.—They say if a ball club has good pitchers and hitters, the winning of games will take care of itself, which may explain the fearful maldy gripping the world champion Philadelphia Athletics today and for the last two weeks.

Connie Mack has a great 1931 team except that his pitchers can't pitch and his hitters would do very well as butlers employed to send cooling breezes across the brow of the King of Siam.

Among the hurlers of the A's, Earnshaw appears to be going, going, gone. Hank McDonald, 19-year-old youth up from the Portland club, has two arms and a couple of legs but everything else the scouts said he had still reposes on the bonny banks of the Pacific. Mahafey, Carter and Rompage proved yesterday as the champions collapsed 12 to 1 before the New York Yankees that charity starts the first time the umpire opens his mouth and goes on down through the innings.

Rommel handed out six hits and four walks in less than seven innings and you could have had his shirt for the mere asking. Mahafey dispensed hits and walks with wild abandon of a Rockefeller dropping dimes. Figuratively, Carter was down to his last shoelace and all he needed was a towel, when Mack sent him to the showers.

As for the hitters, the great Simmons goose-egged yesterday until he looked like an onomatopoeic and his batting average to date resembles an apple seller's bank account. Today, the worthy gentleman obtained from the Red Sox, raised his own eye brows with the rest of the world when he got his second hit of the season.

But now that we are all warmed up to the subject, don't think we are going to predict the utter fall of the A's. No, indeed, Grove and Walberg still have arms. Simmons will come back and as for the rest, they can't get any worse than they were yesterday.

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS ON NEW BATTLEFRONTS

NEW YORK, April 22.—(UP)—Major league baseball teams changed battle grounds today as eight of them officially opened their 1931 home season.

The pomp and ceremony connected with the first home game is scheduled for Brooklyn, New York, St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the National League and Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and Boston in the American.

These clubs played their opening series of 1931 on foreign fields, although Brooklyn had an unofficial opening Sunday against the Phillies. The jump to Ebbets field was made necessary by the law forbidding Sunday baseball in Philadelphia.

Three of the teams returned home as early season disappointments. They were Philadelphia and Detroit, who are tied with the Boston Red Sox for the American league cellar, and Brooklyn, holding the last place in the National circuit.

HOLDS THE FORT

Last of the important big league holdouts is "Chick" Hafey, above, slugging Cardinal outfielder who figured prominently in three National league championships. The St. Louis team has won in the last five years. According to President Sam Breadon, Hafey has refused to arbitrate his salary differences. Manager Gabby Street has gone ahead with plans to play Orsatti and Martin in Hafey's left field position.

WESTMINSTER OPENS SEASON WITH 7-0 WIN

Westminster today was installed as an enthusiastic member of Double-A night baseball.

The "baby team" of the National league taking the place of the defunct Orange club, served notice it is young only in experience last night by shutting out the Fullerton Hawks, 7 to 0, with all the neatness and despatch of a championship entry.

A well proportioned crowd witnessed the Aviators' admission to the circuit and was repaid by seeing one of the best young moundsmen in the league, Ira DeBusk, turn back Fullerton with six hits, well scattered.

Westminster, manned by Francis Pothall, manufactured its runs in the first and third innings. Hits by Burns, Clemmens and Gardner produced a pair in the first, and Burns' single, Cannon's miff of Clemmens' long fly, Gardner's drive to Goodrich, Davis' single, Sauer's double and Starkey's home run accounted for five more in the third.

DeBusk struck out 11 and was never in trouble.

The Aviators make their first trip Friday, and incidentally their first severe test, when they go to Anaheim. The "baby members" looks like it will win as many games as it will lose in the National Night league.

OILERS DEFEAT OLIVE, 8 TO 6; ANAHEIM WINS

The National Night Baseball league's 1931 pennant race was less than 24 hours old today by an upset of important consequence.

Without the slightest warning, Jack Robertson's Huntington Beach Oilers knocked off the powerful Olive Packers, rated as a first flight championship contender, in a thrilling 8-6 game at Olive last night, making its winning runs in the ninth inning.

Dope followed a true course elsewhere about "Prexy" George Washington Peterkin's wheel with Santa Ana, defending titleholder, blanking Whittier; Anaheim roughhousing Garden Grove; Westminster shutting out Fullerton, and Long Beach running roughshod over the weak La Habra outfit.

In beating Olive, Howard Morning, gallant veteran of countless night ball campaigns, impressed observers that he is in something like his old time form.

The graceful southpaw had a wretched season in 1930 but seems to be working with old time confidence this season, and if he is "right" Huntington Beach will be a first divisioner all the way because Manager Harry Beatty has assembled a real club to support Morning.

Rudy Heman pitched for Olive and saw the winning runs dribble across the pan in the last inning on Frank Liebelt's walk, Kenny Felock's double, and Bill Bushman's life on Hatfield's error at second base.

Previously, Huntington Beach scored four in the first on doubles by Elliott and Young, a pass to Maness, Gunther's error on Landreth's fly, and singles by Liebelt and Goshert. The Oilers got their other two in the fifth when Landreth, Liebelt and Bushman bunched doubles.

Olive made one in the third on successive doubles by Thomas and Griffith, and five in the fifth when Morning showed his only sign of weakness during the ordeal. Doubles by Thomas, Hatfield, Turry and Herman and singles by Griffith, Heard and Thomas proved the southpaw's undoing in this frame.

Base hits 001 000 010—2

Summary
Homerun—Cornelius, 2 base hit—Nelson, stolen base—L. Daley, sacrifice hit—Scott. Double play—Moon to White to Sucksdorf. Struck out by Cornelius 7, by McDonnell 11. Bases on balls off Cornelius 1. Umpires—Smith and Nunn.

Earl Merrill is now a Star, Merrill a Pepper.
Santa Ana and Garden Grove completed an even-steppin' trade for the two pitchers late yesterday and Merrill joined the Stars at Whittier last night.

Merrill, whose chief forte is a dandy "sinker" ball, was dissatisfied at Garden Grove where he pitched brilliantly but without much luck for several years. Anaheim, Olive and Westminster were after him at one time or another this season. Santa Ana did not enter into the bidding until L. A. Aubuchon, business manager of the Peppers, offered Merrill a $10,000 contract. Manager George Lackaye did not want to let Youel go but finally demurred and the transaction was completed. It is understood that Youel will revert to Santa Ana at the end of the present season. Lackaye said he consented to release Youel only because at Garden Grove the young pitcher will get regular assignments whereas here he was not likely to see much action behind Cornelius and Ochoa.

Garden Grove and Youel, incidentally, will invade the Santa Ana Bowl Friday night for the Stars' next league game. Wouldn't it be a cruel prank of fate if the young Youel would hit the Stars' next league game. Wouldn't it be a cruel prank of fate if the young Youel has a dandy fast ball and might do it at that.

Randolph Bell and "Rosy" Merrill were on "String" McDonnell's hip. Merrill fanned four times, Bell three. Ordinarily they are both hard men to get out of there on strikes.

Wayne Nelson started the season impressively by hitting safely three times in four. All of his hits were on the nose, too. "Memphry" Hill and Leavitt Daley kicked through with a couple of line singles too.

Ed Daley played a whale of a game at the first sack, fielding beautifully several wild throws. He also hit the ball well. One of his drives was a towering fly which Denney barely pulled down.

JOE CORNELIUS HERO OF FIRST LEAGUE BATTLE

"Jumping Joe" Cornelius was the inspiration for most of the street corner gossip you heard here today.

The rangy right hander pitcher—and batted—the Santa Ana Stars to a 2 to 0 victory over Whittier in the official opening game of the National Night Baseball league at Whittier last night.

It was Cornelius this and Cornelius that.

It was Cornelius who stopped the free-swinging disciples of "Rube" Ellis with two singles, one of them a scratchy infield hit. It was Cornelius who batted in both of Santa Ana's runs—the first with a ringing home run to the tall uncut, the second with a sharp grounder to second base which was scored as a fielder's choice.

Cornelius Invincible
With his equally clever battery-mate, "Benny" Wilcox, catching him in his usual faultless fashion, Cornelius just breezed through. Only four Peppers saw first base. None got further. The "Iron Man" struck out seven, got almost all the others on puny popups or weak grounders.

Jertberg was the first to hit safely off Cornelius. In the third inning he rammed a grounder toward second base that Cornelius tried to field but couldn't quite hold. Scott picked up the intercepted sphere but failed to nip Jertberg at first by a stride. White popped out, McDonnell forced Jertberg at second, Cornelius to Scott, and Moon struck out and nobody else got on base until the eighth when Johns singled on a line to center, the only genuine Whittier hit. Jertberg and White followed with flys to Nelson.

Denney walked with two away in the ninth but A. Hill ended the game by forcing him at second. That was the sum and substance of the damage wrought off "Jumping Joe" Cornelius.

"String" McDonnell, lean ace of the Whittier staff, fanned 11 Stars but was almost constantly in trouble by reason of the 11 hits he yielded. Cornelius' homer came in the third, the Santa Ana pitcher being the first batsman of the inning. It was a tremendous drive to right center. Leavitt Daley and "Memphry" Hill followed with singles but McDonnell settled down after wild-pitching them to third, fanned Merrill and Bell and retired Nelson on an infield fly.

Score Again in Seventh
Hill singled in the fifth but was tossed out stealing. Nelson doubled in the sixth but perished trying to stretch it to three bases. So the Stars didn't get their other run until the seventh. Then they loaded the bases in rapid succession. Ed Daley led off with a single and Scott and Wilcox both beating out bunts that were intended as sacrifices. Cornelius rolled to Second Baseman Sucksdorf and Ed Daley scored while Sucksdorf was throwing the pitcher out at first. Leavitt Daley forced Scott at the plate and was doubled out, trying to move up to second on the transaction.

Although he never was in serious need of it, the Stars fielded magnificently behind Cornelius. Bell and Hill both came up with spectacular catches, Bell making a diving shooting catch on Denney in the first inning and Hill taking A. Hill's Texas leaguer over his shoulder in the seventh. Nelson also came up with a nice catch on White's long line drive in the eighth.

WATER FACTS PRESENTED AT BOARD SESSION

ORANGE, April 22.—The water department of the city of Orange gives 1,000,000 gallons of water each month to other departments of the city without accounting and does not receive any credit or pay for this volume of water, it was stated by W. J. Richardson, water superintendent, at a meeting of the city council yesterday.

Out of the 30,000,000 gallons of water used monthly, 900,000 gallons are used in flushing sewers, Richardson said.

Richardson made the statement when A. L. Tomblin, fire chief, asked for free water service at the fire hall. It was stated that the city was paying the firemen $50 a month rent for the hall, which is owned by the fire department and that water had formerly been obtained from the William Vickers home next to the fire hall. When Vickers, a fire truck driver, moved to another location, it left the fire hall without water, it was said.

The matter was referred to the fire committee, G. A. Shoemaker and Ben Dierker.

Councilman Clyde Watson suggested a campaign to check up on leaky faucets in the city to help in the conservation of water.

Tomblin stated that the proposed opening of the blind alley on the east side of the first block of South Glassell street would be a great aid in fire damage prevention.

ORANGE PLANS OBSERVANCE OF CLEAN-UP WEEK

ORANGE, April 23.—Clean-Up week will be proclaimed here during the week of May 4, according to action taken at the meeting of the Orange city council yesterday. The week was suggested by A. L. Tomblin, fire chief, who stated that as far as fire hazard was concerned the season was two months advanced and that everything was as dry as in June of last year.

Tomblin called attention to the clean-up week in Santa Ana, which had good results, he said, and pointed out that last year a good many grass fires had resulted from weeds left to become dry before vacant lots were cleared.

Tomblin also asked for the appointment of Vivian Wolfe, 21, as fireman. The department is entitled to 19 firemen, Tomblin said.

Inability to secure a permanent place to erect the proposed city sign near the county hospital is delaying the completing of arrangements for installing the sign, it was reported. Attention was called to the lack of signs on the highways near here to direct motorists to this city. The Automobile Club of Southern California will be asked to remedy this condition, it was decided. During the meeting it was stated that the lack of a sign near the fork in the highway of the Anaheim and Placentia boulevards causes many persons to go up the Placentia road, thinking it is the road to Orange, it was said.

$45,000 Building Permit for M. O. D. Plant is Granted

ORANGE, April 22.—A building permit for $45,000 was issued yesterday to Adolf Schmid, of Santa Ana, for construction work on the Orange Mutual Citrus association pre-cooling plant. Work on the structure is now under way and the entire cost of the plant when it is fully equipped will total about $50,000.

It is expected that the plant will be completed in approximately two months time. Two houses were recently moved from Marietta place, where the new plant is to be built.

EDISON GIVEN FRANCHISE FOR NEXT 50 YEARS

ORANGE, April 22.—At a special meeting held yesterday at the city hall, the city council accepted a bid of $100 submitted by the Southern California Edison company for a franchise of 50 years duration. By the terms of the franchise the city is to receive two per cent of the gross income of the company for the use, operation and possession of the franchise. Ordinance No. 327, which was drawn as a means of granting the franchise, was up for first reading.

The Edison company was represented by Gail Selig of the legal department. By the terms of the franchise, the Edison company may make a charge of a rental of $1 a year for the use of poles by the city for the police system or fire alarm wires. Selig stated that the clause was put in the franchise as a safety measure and that without doubt the rental never would be asked. With this clause, wiring on the company poles would be under the supervision of the company employees, Selig explained.

A. L. Tomblin, fire chief, appeared before the council and told council members that the entire fire alarm system would be revamped within a short time and inquired concerning the rental. It was brought out that the city is now using from 10 to 15 Edison poles at the present time without charge.

Selig stated that the city of Fullerton received $427.70 during the month of 1930 as the two per cent on power alone, used in the city. Selig pointed out that the gross income of the company in a city does not represent the true measure on which the tax is based as mileage enters in the calculations.

The former franchise under which the company operated here was granted 30 years ago last November and the city did not receive a percentage of the gross returns under the terms of the contract.

A communication from G. R. Huddy was read. Huddy stated that a wire on a tree near his home, 251 North Shafer street, was worn, the insulation having been rubbed off by contact with branches of a tree through which it was strung. G. M. Gilmore of the local Edison company office stated that the wire had been inspected and the matter would be taken care of.

Circus Acts To Feature Fiesta Street Breakfast

EXPECT EVENT WILL ATTRACT
500 PERSONS

One of the big features of the Santa Ana Merchants' May Fiesta, which will be held on the streets of Santa Ana April 30 to May 2, will be a huge breakfast to be held in the street at Third and North Main streets Friday morning, May 1.

Vaudeville acts from the West Coast theaters, together with other good entertainment, music, and speeches will feature the event and some 500 persons are expected to attend.

Gene Kahen, local merchant, will have charge of the food for the big breakfast, and Hunter Leach, commander of the Santa Ana American Legion post, 131, will have charge of arrangements, it was announced.

Another feature of the breakfast will be comedy waiters for all the tables. These are to be imported and were arranged for through Norman Sprowl.

Some of the acts on the bill include Togo, the champion dog wire walker, who will perform up above his audience in the air; The Four Bathasars, a big time circus act which has played in Santa Ana before; Cleo Lambert with another big time circus act, and Eddie Vissel, who will be in charge of the clowns. And it is rumored that Williams and Klenz will have installed a loud speaker for the occasion.

Many Girls Needed

Miss Joane Gaylord, who will have charge of the pajama parade, to be held on the streets at 11 a. m. Saturday, May 2, and who also will stage a fashion review at the Fox Broadway theater on Friday morning, needs 50 girls.

These girls should report to her at her studio at 411 West Fourth street immediately, so they can learn their routines and get instructions concerning the parade and the fashion show. Prizes are to be awarded to the girl winners in both events.

In the pajama parade, girls will furnish their own pajamas, and first prize will be $25; second $10 and third, $5. In the fashion review the girls will wear the latest imported gowns displayed by various local merchants who have signed up for display in the show.

Normal Sprowl, general chairman for the merchants' fiesta, today requested that all merchants interested in a contest to be staged by the merchants for the best window displays, get in communication with P. F. Colonick, at Neeley's immediately. He has charge of the arrangements for this particular contest.

Another attraction for persons visiting the downtown area during the three days of festivities is

NINE PROBLEMS
FACING BOARD OF EDUCATION

A series of nine problems classified as urgent matters requiring early consideration were presented to the new board of education at its first official meeting in the school administration offices yesterday by Business Manager George Newcomb. They were as follows:

Extent of landscaping, sprinkling system and grading at new Frances Willard school and placement of new side walks, also the matter of new lighting fixtures throughout those new buildings.

Disposal of old Frances Willard school.

Treatment of Julia Lathrop school playground to prevent dust nuisance to neighbors.

Additional school rooms at Lowell school.

Disposition or use to be made of Washington building or moving board offices and supervisors' offices to that building and selling present office etc.

Decision as to improvements if any to be made at Lincoln and Jefferson schools.

Provision for shower rooms building at the Frances Willard school. Investigation of present status of school insurance and method of handling same.

Decision as to most feasible plan of remedying the acoustical conditions at Julia Lathrop school music rooms.

These matters were briefly discussed by the board and it was determined to hold frequent meetings until the new board is fully acquainted with its task and has problems well in hand. It was suggested that sessions of the board might be held weekly for the first few months.

Part of the matters to which attention was called by the business manager were referred to a committee on buildings and grounds. Newcomb was instructed to make a survey and bring in a report on insurance at the next meeting.

Sale of Cards Not Aid To Veterans

It has been called to the attention of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, that cards are being sold throughout the county for Memorial day.

Harry S. Pickard, commander of the local D. A. V. chapter, stated that no benefits are derived by disabled veterans in Orange county from this or any other sale of cards, magazines, etc.

The fact that merchants will give away souvenirs at appointed times to be announced later.

Arrest Mexican
For Possession

Joe Rodriguez, 40, Santa Mexican, was arrested by Sheriff Logan Jackson and Deputy Art Bells, at Stanton Monday night and is being held in the county jail on charges of drunkenness and possession of liquor.

The arrest was made after the sheriff's office had been informed that Rodriguez was beating his wife and making a disturbance. A bottle of liquor was reported found in his machine.

LENSKI PLAYS
BEFORE WOMEN IN LOCAL CLUB

Seldom have members of the local Business and Professional Women's club been privileged to hear a more beautiful program than that at their guest day luncheon Monday in Ketter's blue room, when Vladimir Lenski, violin player, was presented as guest artist.

Business matters of the club were placed in the background with the exception of one or two announcements, and Miss Alma Sweet, program chairman, introduced the artist. He prefaced his violin numbers with a brief talk on the history of violin making and the great artists the world has known. Especially interesting was his description of the old violin which he possesses.

In telling of the history of violin makers, he spoke of the art of Andrea Amati, founder of a race of famous makers, although his grandson, Nicola Amati, was "the great Amati." Other great craftsmen down to Stradivari, were described, and the manner in which Italy had lost its prestige as the great center of the violin making industry.

To complete the day, the artist, with Mrs. Belle Greshner, of Costa Mesa, as accompanist, played several numbers. The Appassionata movement from a Vieuxtemps concerto, was followed by the deceptively simple rhythms of "The Rosary" (Kreisler's arrangement).

In a different mood was a mazurka by Musin, gay and colorful from its spirited opening to the pizzicato finale. An unusual number, based on the harmonic minor scale, was played as an encore, and the artist told of its composition on the battlefield by a Russian officer in the Russo-Japanese war. There was a suggestion of the military beat in its rhythms, and more than a suggestion of the Orient.

As a finale, Lenski played an arrangement of "Annie Laurie" for a G string solo. The clubwomen were interested in learning that Mrs. Greshner had been assistant organist at the famous temple in Salt Lake City before coming to Costa Mesa.

It is generally supposed that Damascus, the chief city in Syria, is the oldest city in the world.

SANTA ANA DESCENDANT OF SPANISH PIONEERS RECALLS
EARLY CALIFORNIA FAMILIES

The wealth of history that is evoked by La Fiesta de Los Angeles, even in these opening days of planning for the 150th anniversary celebration commencing September 4 for a nine days' series of events, is indicated by the interest of men and women who, in some manner, have shared in the romantic record.

One of these the fiesta committee heard from the other day. She is Mrs. Matilda Soberanes Lemon, of Santa Ana, recording secretary of the Native Daughters of the Golden West here and well known in Orange County.

Isidore B. Dockweiler, president of La Fiesta de Los Angeles association, had asked Mrs. Lemon to give the anniversary committee the benefit of her great knowledge of California history, particularly as it relates to distinguished families. That the fiesta official could not have gone to a better source for information may be judged from the following reply from Mrs. Lemon:

"I read with interest the history of Los Angeles in your pamphlet as it brings back to me bits of old-time history of our state as told me by my parents.

"You see, I happen to be one of nearly six generations of the Soberanes family in California, my ancestors being one of the first families arriving with the Portola and Father Serra expeditions — Castro, Rodriguez, Soberanes, Arguello, Carrillo (first arrival) being numbered in our family as well as de la Osa, or De Losa, Vallejo and numerous others.

"My grandfather was Don Feliciano de Soberanes, and if I don't mistake, was born in Monterey county in 1733. His father was Don Jose Maria de Soberanes, young lieutenant with Portola and one of the leading men. So was my great grandfather, Rodriguez, on my paternal grandmother's side.

"Grandfather Don Feliciano de Soberanes, at one time owner of a large grant of best land in Monterey county, was alcalde of that county, 1838-39; administrator of Soledad mission, 1841-45, of which estate he became owner of two leagues. What is now Kings City was his father's "Rancho de San Lorenzo." Paraiso Springs was his, also La Vina, and the Mission ranch, as well as land holdings in Pajara and the better part of New Montgomery street, San Francisco, which he sold for a song.

"Our people owned better part of Contra Costa, Napa, Mendocino, Monterey, Sonoma and Marin counties at one time. For myself I am just plain Matilda Soberanes Lemon, scion of an old pioneer family.

The events which concerned the colorful figures of old California with whom Mrs. Lemon is connected by blood are among those that La Fiesta will portray in the historical pageant and other ceremonies of the great celebration. That period of the past is most romantic and fascinating and its colorful life lends itself to most effective reproduction.

Meteorologists calculate that 44,000 thunder storms occur daily in the whole world, and that an average of 100 lightning bolts flash through the earth's atmosphere every second.

REPORT SHOWS
ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOLS DROPS

A slight decrease in the average daily attendance in Santa Ana schools for the month ending March 27 was shown in the attendance report prepared by H. I. Ranney, director of attendance in the city schools, which was presented to the board of education yesterday by Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston. The decrease was shown as 129.2 pupils in average daily attendance. Superintendent Cranston advised that there had been a great deal of sickness during the last month and also called attention to the fact that it was the season of the year when people from the East who had been here for the winter were returning to their homes, in accounting for the decrease.

Total active enrollment on March 27 for the elementary and high schools was 6072. Including junior college, adult education department and the juvenile home, the total active enrollment was 8040. The total average daily attendance for the month was 6261.1. This was divided as follows: high schools, 1560.4; elementary schools, 3788; kindergartens, 401; junior college, 511.7.

A feature of the report is the fact that the three Mexican schools are included in the four highest ranking schools in the city in percentage of attendance for the month. The ranking for the first four was as follows: Fremont, 96.28; Edison, 96.10; Delhi, 95.83; Logan, 95.33. Superintendent Cranston pointed out that the Mexican schools used to be at the bottom of the list, but that the better attendance had been attained through a certificate award system inaugurated by Ranney. The certificates are awarded for perfect attendance.

The active enrollment by schools is as follows: high school, 1068; Lathrop 678; Willard, 616; Spurgeon, 411; Fremont, 393; McKinley, 385; Lowell, 328; Roosevelt, 290; Delhi, 275; Franklin, 275; Wilson, 259; Edison, 225; Lincoln, 211; Jefferson, 190; Muir, 188; Logan, 165; Hoover, 114.

SENIOR CLASS
WILL PRESENT
CLEVER COMEDY

The class of 1931 of the Santa Ana high school will present its annual senior play on Friday at 8:15 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The play this year is a delightful and clever comedy centered around a typical American family.

"Under Twenty," by L. Westervelt and John Clements, is to be shown for the first time in this county, and promises to be one of the best senior plays ever given by the high school. It is said, The lead is played by Pauline Parks. Miss Parks plays the part of "Peeks," a young misunderstood mischief-maker of the Farnum family, who succeeds in pulling her family out of one difficulty after another. Rannie, the Irish servant, affords a great deal of humor in this comedy, and is played by Grace Wurster.

Particularly amusing and clever is the last act, and from the reactions of those who have seen the play being rehearsed, the audience will have one continued laugh from the beginning of the last act until the end of the play.

The cast of characters, in order of appearance, includes Ida Farnum, Harriette Morris; Grace Farnum, Iris Johnson; Peeks Farnum, Pauline Parks; Bozo, a dog; Rannie, Grace Wurster; Russell Farnum, Charles Morgan; Bill Boyd, Arthur Casey; Diana Edgerton, Grace Peck; Ted Rutherford, Phil Gerrard; Donald Brown, Lawrence Patterson.

Tickets are now on sale at the Santa Ana Book store. All seats are reserved.

There are especially manufactured fountain pens for those who write left-handed.

Husbands Honored at Birthday Party in Wells Home

Planned by Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Fred Newcomb, Mrs. W. G. Knox and Mrs. George Wells in honor of their husbands' birthdays, the party held last evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wells, 2020 Victoria drive was an enjoyable affair. There was one disappointing feature, however, for because of Mrs. Newcomb's illness, Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb were unable to attend.

It was because Mr. Wells' birthday was yesterday that the party was held in his home. Each hostess invited two guests to share the occasion, and early in the evening a two-course buffet dinner was served.

Miss Pauline Wells, daughter of the home, assisted the hostesses. A large angel food cake frosted in white was topped with pink candles, and when cut by Mr. Wells was served with ice cream.

A delightful surprise took place when Mrs. Winbigler presented the honored guests with a box, beautifully wrapped, and whose contents revealed gifts appropriate to clean-up week. Following the dinner, bridge was enjoyed with Mrs. Fred Crowell and Mr. Wells holding high score. Each was presented with a box of handkerchiefs.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Knox and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Winbigler, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wallace.

Pleasant Day Spent at Laguna Beach

An interesting day at Laguna Beach was shared Monday by members and guests of A B Chapter, P. E. O. Arriving at "Our Village" well in advance of the lunch hour, a tour of various flower gardens on the grounds of some of the village's loveliest homes was made by the members. Art galleries, too, were visited by the group.

Early in the afternoon an enjoyable repast was served at Hotel Laguna. Following the luncheon, a short business meeting was held, with Mrs. Bruce Switzer, president, in charge. About 25 members and guests were present.

College Spinster Are Entertained at Gay Pajama Party

Unusually clever verses foretold the merry details of the pajama party at which members of the Junior college Sisterhood of Spinster were entertained Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mook, 2116 North Ross street. The party followed the formal business session, and was presented by a hostess group composed of Spinster Margery Adams, Mary Todd Tate, Grace Skinner and Helen Spangler.

When each girl was seated on the pillow which she had brought with her, according to instructions, Miss Margaret Wilson, supreme Spinster, led a group discussion of future spring activities which include decorating the Y hut for Phi Theta Kappa initiation on Thursday night, decorating for the various events of Fiesta Day, serving tea for the State Honor society convention in May and the closed social event held each semester by the Sisterhood.

After an informal hour of bridge, the gayly pajamaed girls seated themselves on the floor in groups of four around green and white lunch cloths each decorated with a jaunty figure in pajamas, and enjoyed strawberry short cake and coffee.

Clever little prizes were presented Miss Grace Marcher and Miss Mary Tsch for wearing the most attractive beach and lounging pajamas respectively.

One guest, Miss Jean Ferry, was present and Spinster attending the charming affair included the Misses Adele Adams, Margery Adams, Nellie Grafton, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Betty Wiswall, Margaret Wilson, Marjorie Walton, Bernice Summers, Wilma Patterson, Mary Todd Tate, Bernice Keller, Barnard Bender, Marjorie Arundell, Frances Bowman, Mary Isch, Grace Skinner, Marian Parsons, Helen Spangler, Grace Marcher, Phyllis O'Connor, Betty Maloney and Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, faculty advisor.

Pageant Rehearsal Scheduled for Friday Night

In anticipation of the "Pageant of Living Pictures" which they are to present Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the church, members of the choir of the First Methodist church are requested to be present for dress rehearsal Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, choir director, urges that all members of the choir be present.

Evidencing the interest which residents of Our Village display in activities of the community as a whole is the fact that Miss Lolita Parline of Laguna Beach will be present Saturday night to assist in grouping the players for the scenes. Each of the pictures will be preceded by sketches by Miss Parline, who has taken active part in the production of plays in San Francisco. She will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. Eva G. Parline.

In preparing for the pageant, those in charge are planning for an evening of audible beauty as well as visual, for many musical numbers are scheduled. Robert Brown will give vocal solos, while Miss Eva Ramsey will be at the piano and Edward H. Burns the bellows. Mrs. W. E. Snow will be organist. Mrs. Slabaugh will include some solo work in her duties as choir leader and director of the pageant.

Enjoyable Program Follows Ebell Luncheon

An enjoyable program was given Monday afternoon following the luncheon held by members of the Second Travel section of Ebell society in the clubhouse. The delectable menu was served at small tables prettily decorated with mixed bouquets.

Miss Leonora Tompkins gave piano solos, and Mrs. Harry Hayes contributed to the musical program with vocal numbers. Mrs. Zittella T. Bacon followed with a talk on various points in the United States which she visited last summer. She told many things of interest regarding the New England states, stressing historical features.

Several special guests were present at the meeting, including Mrs. E. B. Smith, and Mrs. John P. Talbot of this city and Miss McGawinl Wortley of Sacramento.

B. and P. W. Members Meet As Fullerton Club Guests

Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club members who last night accepted the invitation of the Fullerton clubwomen to a reciprocity dinner in McFarland's cafe were more than repaid for their efforts to attend, by a program of originality and charm planned by a former Santa Ana girl, Miss Ellen Shenley, now social editor of a Fullerton daily newspaper.

In giving the dinner at this time the hostess club paid deference to the Jacaranda Festival which their city is planning for a May event, and made their tables in the big private dining room a delightful application of the idea. Jacaranda blue was emphasized by such details as the unique nut cups and the decorated bowls of pink and blue larkspur centering each table, while tulle in the same lovely color tied the small corsage bouquets which formed dinner favors.

A special guest table, presided over by Miss Carrie Adams, president of the hostess club, had places for Miss Ethel Carroll, president of the southern district B. P. W.; Miss Gertrude DeGelder, president of the Orange county federation; all visiting club presidents, including Mrs. Marshall Northcross Jr., of Santa Ana, and the past presidents of the Fullerton club, one of whom was Miss Alma Karlsson, now an active member of the Santa Ana group.

Dr. William Wickert, president of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, expressed official welcome to the hundred or more guests, told them details of the Jacaranda Festival, complimented them upon their activities and the place being made by women in the economic world, and related several amusing stories. Especially clever was his explanation of the name of his city, evolved from the faithful friendships, the unity, loyalty and laughter, the energy, raptures, triumphs, oranges and nationalism of the first settlers, together with various other qualities cited.

Talented young pupils of the Claire Cotant school of dancing gave a series of song and dance numbers, including a cowboy dance by two young Santa Ana girls, Vera Getty and Lorene McMillan. Several tiny girls in vivid costumes, attracted special interest by their "Lollipop" number, as did one clever lad in his song and dance.

One of the hostess club's features was a series of readings by Mrs. A. B. Waltz, a recent newcomer to that city from Cincinnati, Ohio. From time to time through the evening she gave such amusing monologues as "The Jacaranda Blue Hat," "The Excuse," "She Couldn't Eat," "Gladys Reviews the Dance" and "Pedigree," all given with a vivacity and naturalness that made them delightful.

Anahelm clubwomen presented as their contribution to the program that talented young colored lad, "Snowball," who sang "Water Boy," song of southern negro convict laborers, and "The Goat," followed by a lively dance. His teacher and patron, Mrs. Kate McCullah, played his accompaniments.

Mrs. J. R. Porter of Orange provided a hilarious interval with her stories of negro life gained from her residence in the south. Many of them were told from first-hand experience and coupled with her mastery of the negro dialect and her ability to tell a story well, proved one of the most popular features of the evening.

Santa Ana's contribution was an original sketch, "Just Around the Corner," presented by Mrs. N. E. Mayhill, Mrs. Blanche Brown, Miss Alma Karlsson, Miss Martha Whitson and Eleanor Young Elliott. Staged in a future era when woman has become the dominant sex, the skit offered opportunity for some friendly lampooning of women prominent in county and district club affairs.

The hostess group closed the program with an amusing burlesque on a courtroom scene, with the roles of judge, jury, plaintiff, defendant, prosecuting attorney and witnesses taken by prominent members of the club. As a finale the entire club membership joined in a chorus expressing their friendly spirit to their guests.

Miss Ethel Carroll of Oxnard had motored practically a hundred miles to be present, and in her informal talk, which was the chief feature of the evening, she stressed her appreciation of the loyalty of Orange county groups. She told details of the May district meeting to be held in San Pedro with Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt of Mills college as speaker, and closed with details of the district convention plans being made by Pomona clubwomen.

They have adopted as the keynote of the convention David Starr Jordan's words, "Let us keep our hearts young and our eyes open that we may miss nothing," and she suggested that it might well be adopted by the clubs in general.

Santa Ana members present, in addition to the president, Mrs. Northcross, and three past presidents, Miss Martha Whitson, Mrs. James Murray and Mrs. N. E. Mayhill, were Mrs. Laura Mc-

Double Entertainment Given at College Assembly

Combining a fashion revue of smart summer costumes for both formal and informal wear, with their annual installation of officers, the Associated Woman Students of Santa Ana Junior college presented a program of two-fold interest at the women's assembly held Monday morning in the high school auditorium.

Miss Marian Parsons, past president of the association, presided at the installation and introduced the new officers, including the president, Miss Hazel Huchman, and Miss Louise Proctor, vice president. Miss Margaret Wilson, past secretary, presented the books to Miss Dulcie Green, the newly elected secretary.

Through the courtesy of one of the Santa Ana dress shops, Peterson's shoe store and the Balboa Swim shop, dresses, shoes, bathing suits and pajamas were modeled. The frocks displayed were in yellow, Scotch plaids, black and white combinations and many summer shades. Sport types were modeled with the popular panama hats and two-tone sport shoes. Simplicity was expressed in the formal and informal afternoon and evening gowns in black, white and colors. Polo coats of light tans and whites were also shown. Clever bathing suits in two colors were shown with the beach pajamas.

Jaynes Donas taking part in the fashion show were the Misses Ruth Fitz, Gladys Earley, Catherine Walbridge, Neva McDonald, Marian Taylor, Eugenia Gile, Marjorie Burns, Nellie Grafton, Bernadette Bender, Marjorie Arundell and Maybelle Rall.

Knights of Pythias To Meet Tonight

It is expected that a large crowd of members will attend the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall, Fifth and Broadway. George Murphy and Stanley Davidson are to be initiated into the rank of page. Much of the meeting will be devoted to making plans for events of the near future.

Members of the lodge are feeling especially proud this week, because in the recent election, three of their group, W. Maxwell Burke, Clyde Downing and John Knox were elected to city office. Announcement has been made that Walter A. Austin, Imperial prince of D. O. K. Lodge has been elected mayor of San Diego, giving the Knights further cause for triumph.

Women's Club Chooses Officers at Annual Election

Mrs. James D. Watkins, who has served Santa Ana Woman's club so capably as secretary since the resignation of Dr. Evalene Peo from that position, was honored by the clubwomen at their annual election held yesterday by being named to the presidency for 1931-32. Election was held in the First Congregational hall following an enjoyable covered dish luncheon at 12:30 in the basement dining room of the church.

Mrs. William A. West, county chairman of War Veterans, was named as vice president, Mrs. William Van Meter recording secretary, Miss Octavia Goldsworthy corresponding secretary, Mrs. James C. Clark treasurer, Mrs. William Whitehead press chairman, Mrs. M. J. Marks parliamentarian, Mrs. Charles H. Stanley federation secretary and Mrs. Anna Gale historian.

A pleasant social aspect was given the day by the luncheon, which attracted a large attendance, each member bearing some delicious dish of her own preparation to be added to the menu. Toothsome baked ham, scalloped potatoes, macaroni and cheese, spaghetti, baked beans, various salads, coffee and home-made cakes were served, with ice cream added to the latter for dessert.

Prefacing the lunch interval Mrs. Marie S. Eyerly, pianist, and Mrs. Harry Brackett, soloist, led in the club songs. At the close of the lunch hour Mrs. Brackett consented to sing two solos, "Loch Lomond" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," with Mrs. Eyerly at the piano.

Clubwomen were especially happy to greet their parliamentarian, Mrs. M. J. Marks, who had been absent from many meetings because of illness. She seemed to have recovered her health, and took her usual active part in all affairs of the afternoon.

In the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. William H. Kuhn, attention was called to the program for May 5, when Drinkwater's "Life of Byron" will be reviewed by Dr. Peo and Miss Goldsworthy. The second May program, on Tuesday, April 19th, will be held in the home of Mrs. S. E. Littrell, 207 Cypress avenue, in acceptance of the cordial invitation extended yesterday.

Following election of officers, Mrs. E. C. Wilson gave a resume of the interesting county federation meeting of recent date and Mrs. Harvey Riggle displayed various examples of arts and crafts made in the course of meetings of that club section.

Election of Officers Held at Meeting of Ebell Section

Election of officers for the new year took place yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the First Book Review section of Ebell society held with Mrs. E. W. Spruance in her home on North Ross street. Mrs. John Cloyes was chosen leader, Mrs. Frank Paterson, assistant leader and Mrs. E. B. Sprague, secretary.

A review of "R.V.R.", the life and times of the great Dutch painter, Rembrandt Van Rijn by Wilhelm Van Loon, was given by Mrs. John Teesmann. She stated that the author employs the use of an imaginary ancestor in telling his story, completing the tale with known facts. In a delightful manner Mr. Van Loon gives a splendid idea of the period in Holland during the time of Rembrandt.

A social time followed, during which dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, Mrs. Aldrie Worswick and Mrs. William Otis, assisted Mrs. Spruance in serving.

Two-Act Operetta Will Be Given By Pupils Of Fremont School

In observance of public school week, students of the John C. Fremont school on West Eighth street will present a two-act operetta, "The Queen's Banquet" Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at 7:30 o'clock. This musical play will be staged in the auditorium of the school amid a charming group of flower children growing in a grandmother's garden.

Many colorful costumes have been made for the characters, all of whom are students of the school. The Fremont school is the largest Mexican school in the city, and because of the love of music and the keen sense of rhythm shown by the students, great interest is manifested in this event.

Several teachers are directing the operetta, and the group includes Mrs. Emma Dietrich, Miss Boyd Joplin, Mrs. Helen Abbey, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Cray, Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Miss Elizabeth Brown. Costumes have been designed and made by Mrs. Sue Baxter, Miss Evelyn Herring, Mrs. Alice Taubee, Mrs. Grace Knipe, Mrs. Jessie Boyd and Mrs. Helen Johnston.

Miss Mirrie Wilson will play the opening Overture and accompany the various choruses on the piano. To accommodate the public, the two performances have been arranged. The first one, Thursday evening, is especially for the American friends, while the one Friday evening is for patrons of the school.

Birthday Dates Offer Incentive For Park Party and Bridge

Recent birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Delbert Johnson and of Errol Barnes, offered incentive for a gay celebration of Sunday, April 19, when a park party in Anaheim, was followed by an evening of bridge in this city, both complimenting the two celebrants.

Motoring to Anaheim city park, the guests enjoyed a delicious steak dinner which was followed by a return to the Barnes home at 1114 South Birch street, where the remainder of the evening was devoted to "goofy bridge" and auction. In "goofy bridge," Mrs. Barnes and Gray Snyder held first honors while Mrs. Gray Snyder and Bingham Watson were holders of low score. In auction bridge special scores were held by Mrs. Delbert Johnson, Bingham Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. Gray Snyder. Beautiful baskets of pink and lavender stocks were used by Mrs. Barnes in decorating her home.

Those enjoying the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Errol H. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Johnson, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Gray Snyder and son, Norman, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Bingham Watson and son, Wilbur, Garden Grove.

Business Girls Plan Various Activities

A discussion of plans for club activities of the immediate future took place last night at the meeting of the Wyndene Maegden club of the Y.W.C.A. held in the Y.W. rooms. Preceding the meeting, a dinner was enjoyed at 6 o'clock.

Miss Audrey Chastain, chairman of the finance committee, was asked to take charge of part of the meeting, and this time was devoted to collecting one dollar from each of the girls in observance of dollar day. Each member told her method of earning the sum, and it was announced that the money will go to the Astor fund.

By a vote of the members it was decided to select a nominating committee to select candidates for officers very soon, instead of waiting until a later date as is usually done. In this way, installation of officers will take place at an earlier time than in the past.

It was decided to have a benefit party May 12, and to entertain the mothers on May 5 at the regular club meeting.

Informal Evening Held in Loerch Home

Mrs. A. K. Loerch Jr. entertained Monday evening at an informal affair in her home on North Main street. Guests enjoyed a session of bridge, concluded when the hostess served a buffet supper at the midnight hour.

UNIFORM FLAVOR IN COFFEE DEPENDS UPON THE ROASTING

Hills Bros. Insure Uniformity by Their Patented, Continuous Process

Coffee experts agree that blend alone, regardless of quality, will not produce a perfect cup of coffee. In the roasting of the blend lies the secret of perfect flavor.

The common method of roasting coffee in bulk falls short in developing flavor, because it is not possible to roast every berry evenly. Realizing this, Hills Bros., after years of experimenting, discovered and patented a continuous process of roasting coffee a little at a time.

Control is the watchword of this process. The quantity of coffee passing into the roaster does not vary. The speed of operation and temperature remain the same with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. This process, fittingly called "Controlled Roasting," gives a flavor in the cup that no other coffee has.

Hills Bros. Coffee never "goes stale" because it is packed in vacuum cans. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh because air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is inside. By the vacuum process, air is taken out of the can and kept out. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Fred Russells Leave Here For Home In The North

Having spent the past several days here as guests in the S. H. Finley home on East Fourth street, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell and children are leaving today for Seattle, Wash., where they plan to make their home indefinitely. Since their arrival here, Mr. and Mrs. Russell have been incentive for many social affairs, and the tea held yesterday afternoon in the A. J. McFadden home on North Main street was an especially enjoyable occasion. The hostess group was composed of members of the Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church. For several years Mr. and Mrs. Russell have been stationed at Abyssinia as missionaries, and Mrs. Russell's talk on the country, and the coronation of its governor which she was privileged to witness, proved intensely interesting. A social time followed her talk and adding to the setting for the occasion were bouquets of spring flowers, many of which were from the gardens of Mrs. R. S. Thompson.

Tea was served, with Mrs. W. H. McPeak and Miss Minnie Cowan presiding at the tea urns. Other members of the committee included Mrs. O. S. Johnson, Mrs. W. W. Hoy, Mrs. H. W. Walker and Mrs. John Henderson.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Cooking Asparagus

Among my pet abominations is new asparagus served in gooey cream sauce! There is no excuse for such maltreatment unless unexpected company has come in for dinner and there is not enough to serve all... even then I think I would bribe one or two of the family small fry to refuse the vegetable when it is their turn to be served, but wise up dad before he comes to the table, or he will be sure to spill the beans!

Another quarrel I have with asparagus cookers is the blithe way in which some of them just wash the asparagus and chuck it into the kettle to cook. No wonder it tastes strong! PEEL asparagus or at least nip off those little green ears which grow along the stalk, and cut the stalk just above the tough part so that all that is cooked will be edible, and "cuttable" with a fork. I equirum when I see some agile person juggling a long stalk of asparagus.

There is no more excuse for such action than there is in picking up a chicken leg and wolfing it. And a lot of folks do that who should know better! My choice of cooking and serving asparagus is this: Peel and cut the stalks above the tough part. Tie in loose bundles and cook in boiling water, uncovered. Not much water should be used so that all sides cook alike. Make some dry toast. Just before draining the asparagus, dip the triangles of toast into the water and place on hot plates. Drain the asparagus, dress with butter, pepper and salt, arrange on the toast and pour some of the butter dressing over each portion.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Savory Potato Cakes

6 medium sized potatoes or 2 cups mashed potato

Form into small rolls and put them in a buttered baking dish, brush with a little melted butter, sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in a hot oven until done.
Freshly cooked potato can be used in the same manner—at this time of the year it is a nice way to cook old potatoes.

The recipe given today serves six, the calories total 1200, or 200 per person. The main portion of potato is the starch content, consequently it is rated as an energy food.

BOYS FIND INDIAN MOUND OGDEN, Utah.—The keen eyesight and inevitable curiosity of school boys resulted in the discovery recently of an old Indian burial ground within the city limits. The boys unearthed eight skeletons, alongside which were found beads and other articles used by the aborigines.

A non-breakable mirror of wood has been invented by a German scientist. The wood is soaked in a caustic alkali after which it is put through a process of immersion into metals and chemicals. The wood is then dried and rubbed with a smooth piece of lead, tin or zinc, until it is brilliantly polished.

HARMONY

Mary Brian and Richard Arlen are sweethearts in "Gun Smoke" new western thriller which opens at the Fox West Coast theater today.

'GUN SMOKE' IS NEW TYPE GANG PICTURE

There have been almost all kinds of gang pictures in Santa Ana recently and there are more to follow, but a new type of gang yarn is spun in "Gun Smoke," which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today.

It is a story of a gang of city hoodlums pitted against the cowboy boys of the west.

The picture, a Paramount, stars Richard Arlen and Mary Brian, and its cast is one of the "sweetest" that has supported these big stars in several years. It includes William Boyd, Eugene Pallette, Charles Winniger and Louise Fazenda.

The plot concerns a gang of city gunmen, run out of town who go west and settle in a cow country posing as capitalists. Arlen is the head of a band of cowboys there. Gold is found soon after the gunmen arrive and they proceed to "take over the town" in order to corner the gold. Action, romance and plenty of gun smoke feature the picture from that time.

MYSTERIOUS ISLAND IS STRANGE PICTURE

Few photoplays that have come to the screen have required the experimentation, the tests, the research or the creative genius of "The Mysterious Island," which is showing at Walker's State tonight and Thursday with "Sisters" featuring Sally O'Neil and Molly O'Day.

Lionel Barrymore, Jane Daly, Lloyd Hughes, Harry Gribbon, Snitz Edwards, Gibson Gowland and a notable cast appear in the under sea fantasy, as well as hundreds of extras. It was filmed in its entirety with technicolor and synchronized sound.

Mysterious Island is based on Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

PRICES CUT AT FOX HOUSES THIS SEASON

Summer policy of hte Fox theaters in Santa Ana which will go into effect next Monday include a reduction in price for all shows at the Fox West Coast and Fox Broadway theaters for matinees and a celebration for the first of these matinees is announced today.

Mystic Clayton, crystal gazer, and expert in independent writing and in clairvoyance will be at Fox West Coast theater in person for a special performance. It was announced.

According to an announcement made today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager, the new prices will not be effective on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

'FINGER POINTS' TO END RUN HERE TODAY

Richard Barthelmess plays the role of a newspaper reporter, put "on the spot" by gangland's chiefs, in his latest picture "The Finger Points," which has been playing at the Fox Broadway theater this week. The picture ends its Santa Ana run today.

Suspense, excitement, and moments of uncertainty mark the picture throughout, making it a hair-raising yarn that any audience will like. Barthelmess again proves he is a great actor, if not a good reporter.

'CRACKED NUTS' AT BR'DWAY TOMORROW

No comedy of recent times can boast of so distinguished a staff of humorists as collaborated in the making of Radio Pictures' "Cracked Nuts" which opens tomorrow at the Fox Broadway theater, with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey co-featured.

The story of this infectious comedy came from the inspired pens of Douglas MacLean, who is still one of the screen's greatest comedians, and Al Boasberg, who Hollywood proudly calls its greatest wit.

After it had assembled the story and principal cast, the studio still further strengthened the picture with the addition of three other nationally known funsters—Dorothy Lee, Ben Turpin and Edna May Oliver.

In the parlance of Hollywood, "Assorted Nuts" is a "sweetheart" of a story.

GAS relieved

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All drug stores—25c and 50c.—Adv.

The little fishing birds worked fast until the fisherman said, at last, "Well, we have quite a dandy mess. I guess it's time to quit. My birds have done their share today and now I'll let them fly and play." One bird flew to Clowdy's lap and Clowdy patted it.

The fish still flapped within the boat and soon the craft began to float back to the shore. When it was reached, the Tinymites jumped out. "We want to thank you," Clowdy cried, "for giving us a dandy ride, and also 'cause we now know what bird fishing's all about."

The man replied, "You're welcome, lad. And, incidentally, I'd be glad to have you join me in a meal. I'm going to cook these fish. I have a small place down the shore where there is always room for more. I will prepare a meal and you can eat all that you wish."

The Tinymites thought this plan was great and one said, "I can hardly wait." And so they joined the fisherman and soon sat down to eat. He fried all of the fish just right and soon it disappeared from sight. "I've never tasted any fish," said Clowdy, "quite as sweet."

When they had finished, back they went to town and there an hour was spent in walking round. They shortly reached a little Chinese school. "Let's go inside," the Travel Man said. "I am pretty sure we can. All visitors are welcome in the school rooms, as a rule."

And he was right, 'cause, with a grin, a teacher told them to come in. Cute little desks just filled the room and the scholars were at work. "They seem as busy as can be," said Clowdy. "Goodness gracious me. It must be hard to work that way and never stop to shirk."

RULES

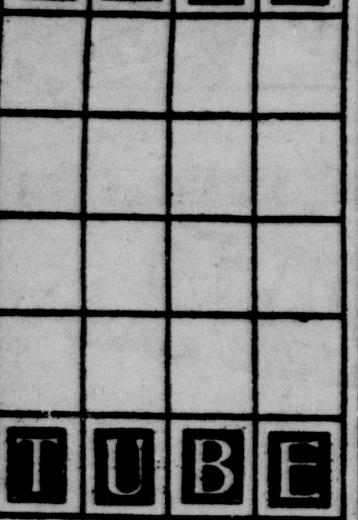

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

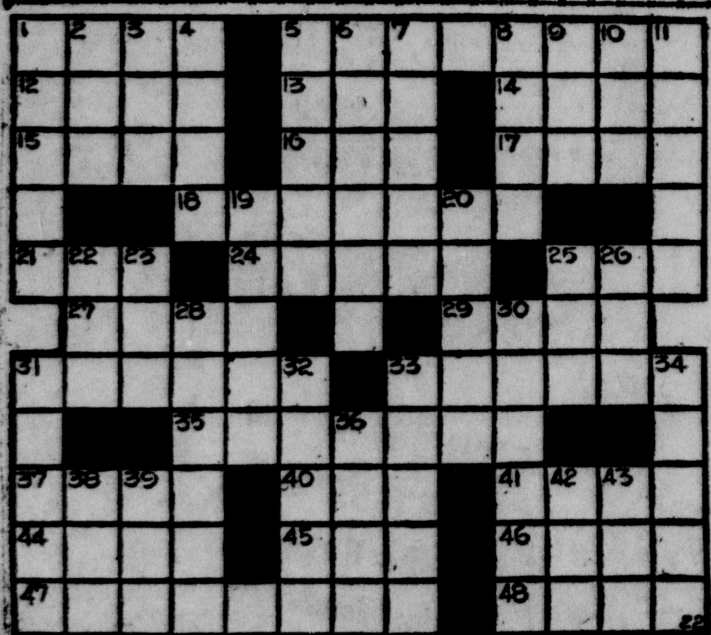

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

West Commonwealth Opening Approved By Council

FULLERTON SUGGESTS TO LEASE CAMP GROUNDS

FULLERTON, April 22.—Plans were under way today to open West Commonwealth avenue west from Magnolia avenue to the point at which the county will take up the project, following action by the city council last night authorizing the city engineer to prepare specifications for the project.

City Engineer C. M. Thorpe announced that the county supervisors have advertised for bids to open and pave the roadway up to the city line. Thorpe explained that the council must decide what type of pavement material will be used in the portion of the road which is city property and other details must also be worked out before bids may be asked.

The new extension on to Commonwealth avenue will open up that street to connect with Manchester boulevard at Grand avenue in Buena Park. Thorpe explained, making possible a considerable shortening of the distance between Fullerton and Buena Park. The county project will also continue on Manchester boulevard from Buena Park west to the county line.

A petition for a contribution from the city council to sponsor a band at Loma Vista cemetery exercises on May 30 was made by Hollis Knowlton, who is in charge of arrangements for the services. Knowlton explained that the city last year sponsored a band since no regular band is maintained. The petition was granted by the council.

Recommending that the city council adopt a set of rules regulating the use and sale of city water from a single meter, members of the water committee called attention to the fact that city water is being used for numerous enterprises from a single meter. The matter was referred to the water superintendent and committee and city attorney.

The council went on record as vigorously opposing a proposed state constitutional amendment whereby the city owned public utilities would be required to pay the state seven and one-half per cent of all revenue received to a fund for educational purposes. It was pointed out by councilmen that if the amendment became a part of the constitution the cities would be required to increase rates on utilities in order to meet current expenses.

Announcement that Walter Humphreys has formally been accepted as a member of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water district representing the city of Fullerton was made in a communication received from the district board.

Plans for a community camp ground at some place in the mountains which would be available to all families unable to rent a site for summer outings were explained in a communication from the undersigned child committee of the Fullerton Kiwanis club. It was suggested that the city council lease the necessary grounds in the mountains with the reservation that the Kiwanis club be responsible for keeping the grounds cleaned and in condition for use. The matter was referred to a committee composed of Councilman J. S. Elder, City Attorney Albert Launer and Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

An ordinance authorizing city police and firemen to assist persons in distress in the city and outside of the city on the order of the chief and in case of accident making them eligible for workmen's compensation, was unanimously passed at the second reading last night.

San Clemente To Enter Horses In Placentia Races

SAN CLEMENTE, April 22.—Equine leaders of San Clemente will assist the El Rodeo Riding club of Orange county in celebrating the opening of the club's quarter mile race track at Placentia May 10. Ole Hanson Jr., a leader in the club, says that a large crowd is expected. Races of all kinds will hold the boards on that day.

OPEN BIDS APRIL 23.—Bids will be opened April 23 by the Laguna Beach County Water board for the erection of a pump house at pumping plant No. 2 on Temple Terrace, Arch Beach. The location is close to the new Catholic church and the style of architecture is to conform to the new church edifice.

DECLARES OLD TIME RELIGION AMERICA'S NEED

FULLERTON, April 22.—"You can't run with the goddess and have much influence as a soul-winner," Evangelist John E. Brown told a capacity audience in the Fullerton tabernacle last night. Evangelist Brown's subject was "Crooked Paths." He took his text from Matthew 23:3: "Repent ye for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand. Prepare ye the way of the Lord. Make His paths straight."

Evangelist Brown referred to the plea of John the Baptist of old. "Repent ye."

"There is probably no theme from the pulpit quite so unpopular as this," the evangelist said. "John the Baptist cried 'Repent ye,' and they chopped off his head. Jesus Christ pleaded the same thing and they nailed Him to the cross. Eleven of His disciples died violent deaths."

"You can say what you want to, but throughout America today in at least one pulpit in every city there should be a John the Baptist crying, 'Repent ye, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.' Repent ye. The tree that beareth not fruit shall be cut down. Repent ye. The wheat and the chaff shall be separated and the chaff burned with the fire unquenchable."

The evangelist told of a conference held some time ago by President Herbert Hoover, of representative men of America from every walk of life—bankers, college heads, business men, railroad men and representatives of every department of life. President Hoover asked them what the greatest need of America is today and that group of men unanimously and without hesitation replied: "To get back to God."

"That is what America needs today more than anything," the Rev. Mr. Brown declared. "To get back to the old time religion. We need a mighty revival of old time righteousness. Jesus Christ wants to come to this community with a great spiritual awakening, but if He comes, it must be through the church, through the home, and first of all through the individual life of you people."

The speaker scored wrong use of the tongue and urged people to get envy and hatred out of their hearts.

DEVELOPMENT OF EDUCATION CITED

ANAHEIM, April 22.—In observation of Public Schools week, the Anaheim Kiwanis club devoted its regular meeting yesterday to a school program.

Dr. Elmer J. Jaqua, president of Scripps college, was the main speaker, and addressed the members on educational matters, declaring that education was developing faster among women than among men, and explained the purposes of Scripps college.

In the early days of education in the United States only boys and men were admitted to the colleges and universities. Dr. Jaqua declared, and it wasn't until the advent of the girls' finishing school that women began to find a place in educational affairs.

Fred Rath, member of the Honorary society of the Anaheim union high school, introduced Berthyle Nelson, Shirley Criss, Wilma Watts and Roland Myers as members of the honor society of the senior class of the high school.

Musical entertainment was provided by Little Martha Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Powell, of Anaheim, who sang and danced. She was accompanied at the piano by Katherine Steward.

John Price, president, presided over the meeting.

County Firemen Convene In Brea

BREA, April 22.—Members of the Orange County Firemen's association met Monday night at the fire hall in Brea, where dinner was served in the banquet room by the wives of the local firemen. Eighty-six places were laid.

No special program was followed but interesting discussions pertaining to fire prevention, fire-fighting apparatus, power and limitation of firemen in the matter of inspections were held.

Inspection of Brea's fire department was made by the visiting firemen and a complete tour of the city hall was also one of the features of the evening. Fire Chief Emil Carlson presided at the meeting and welcomed the guests.

NEW OFFICE FOR CHIEF

NEWPORT BEACH, April 22.—The new office for Chief of Police Roland Hodgkinson at the ocean side of police headquarters will be ready in a few days. The big safe was moved Tuesday. New linoleum has been placed on the floor and the woodwork and walls repainted. It will give the chief a private office for conferences.

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION FROM MEXICO URGED IN SPEECH BEFORE BREA P. T. A. MEMBERS

BREA, April 22.—Strongly advocating the restriction of Mexican immigration to the United States by fixing a quota, Professor P. J. Cooney, recently a Democratic candidate for assembly, addressed the Brea P. T. A. at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the Brea grammar school auditorium.

Professor Cooney declared that within 10 years, basing his calculation on the present annual influx of Mexican citizens, California will have a population one-quarter Indian. The professor pleaded that Mexican children born in the states and the Mexican residents already here be treated with fairness and consideration and denounced as un-American, un-Christian and impractical the proposed legislation which would result in the segregation of these children in schools where they have been accustomed to mingle with American children.

The program was concluded with

KNOPF SPEAKS ON EDUCATION IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, April 22.—The annual public schools week program was presented last night in the Fullerton union high school auditorium, opening the activities of the week.

Dr. Carl Knopf, formerly an instructor in the Fullerton union high school and now a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California, was the principal speaker, telling of the importance of observing the week of activities in the interests of education of the youth for the good of the nation of tomorrow.

A musical program, arranged by the Fullerton high school and junior college music departments, was presented. The program opened with an organ prelude by Willard Smith followed by selections from the operetta, "Land of Our Dreams," by students of the Fullerton elementary schools, with Miss Emelyn Avey, directing. The Fullerton high school orchestra played three numbers, "Norma" (overlaid by Bellini), "In a Persian Market" by Ketylova, and "Down South" by Myddleton. William McPhee directed the orchestra. The junior college men's chorus sang "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," followed by "Desert Love Song" (Gertrude Spross) sung by the women's chorus. The Bel Canto choir of the junior college sang "Welcome" by Christiansen, "Souls of the Righteous" by Noble and "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen.

The speaker scored wrong use of the tongue and urged people to get envy and hatred out of their hearts.

WATER FACTS PRESENTED AT CENTER MEET

YORBA LINDA, April 22.—Water conservation and reclamation was the chief topic of the evening at the April meeting of the Yorba Linda Farm center held Monday evening at the Women's clubhouse, with R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the farm bureau, as speaker.

Flaherty told of the chief projects of the farm bureau, water conservation and taxation, and of the study which is now being made in Orange county in regard to tax money and particularly that which is spent for roads, which amounts to over one million dollars a year.

The water committee, which is now at work on the project, is planning to file suit against Laguna Beach for the exploitation of Santa Ana valley water, according to Flaherty, and the action of ranchers of the county in backing up the work of this committee has had an effect in Long Beach and it is doubtful if this city makes use of her recently purchased water-bearing land in Orange county, he declared.

Interest is being shown by the supervisors in the reclamation of sewer water, Flaherty stated, and they have asked for a report on this method of conservation.

REALTY BOARD URGED TO MAKE WATER STUDY

LAGUNA BEACH, April 22.—Misrepresentation of conditions in the vicinity of Laguna Beach are being made by brokers and their agents, Gilbert Wilson told the Laguna Beach Realty board Tuesday at the noon luncheon at the White House cafe. He called on the board to take steps to prevent sales being made where conditions are not truthfully stated.

That this community should unite with others in a study of water conditions was also urged by Mr. Wilson, who told the board that he has made a study during the past two years of water and asserted that few understood how serious the water shortage is. He told of the meeting set for May 2 at the Chamber of Commerce office in which representatives from coast communities of Orange county will be asked to be present to consider forming a district to apply for admission into the Metropolitan Water district.

Wilson's appeal for board inquiry into unethical practices was taken seriously by the board, which referred it to the grievance committee consisting of Roy M. Rapp, F. D. Pettes, Howard W. Plancha, Maud Peck and A. N. Marshall. The latter said that if any brokers is working in a way detrimental to the standard of ethics that the really association is trying to establish, that the board should take action. Roy W. Peacock, president of the board, pointed out that the offending brokers are not members of the realty board.

MUTT AND JEFF—What Does the Lion Think?

COUZENS SAYS
GREED CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

that unless they put their own house in order the people would do it for them. The manner and method in which the people did that job is now history.

"Without any more claim to prophetic vision than I could have had then, I can say the same thing is going to happen to capitalist industry unless it puts its house in order.

"But, unfortunately, we have adopted the money yard stick as the measure of success. The men achieving success by that yard stick are able men. They have one track mind. They drive toward a single objective. That objective is to make their own organization a success by the money yard stick and they think of nothing else.

"If I had not got out of the Ford Motor company at an age which would enable me to absorb some new ideas, I am reasonably certain I would have felt the same way about money and success. And you must understand I am no complaint against making money. Industry must be self-supporting.

"It must make money. It does seem to me, though, that a great industrialist ought to get some satisfaction out of considering the human equation in his plant—more satisfaction from that than merely from making money."

"The only hope for social-mindedness among industrial leaders," he continued in response to questions, "is education. Industry might be educated to its responsibility. If it assumed the responsibility of paying an annual income to its workers it would find means of getting its money's worth. It could guarantee an annual income based on 48 weeks employment. Having done that, industry would see to it that there was work to be done. If American industry can do anything it can get its money's worth. It has shown that."

"There is food for thought in the anti-capitalist system devised by Soviet Russia. Under our laws we insist on continuing the highly competitive system—the Clayton and Sherman acts lay down the policy on that question. But now our production exceeds our ability to consume. The question therefore arises, how far shall we insist on this highly competitive system of ours?"

"It is significant that both the anti-capitalist and capitalist systems now are running at full speed and that both can be observed in operation at the same time. Which of the two is the better is a matter of opinion.

"But I will say, that inefficient as the democratic form of government is, and even with all the claims made that the dead hand of government must not throttle industry, it is better than the money yard stick that should pass through economic conditions such as these. I have no patience with the man who finds fault with government regulations and offers no substitute. From my own experience I prefer private initiative, but I am about convinced we can't rely on it any longer."

Here's New Point
For Boys Opposed
To Taking Baths

Little boys who hate to see Saturday night come because it's bath night will dislike Saturday more than ever when they hear of the experience of Daniel Head, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Head, of Santa Ana Route No. 2.

While taking a bath yesterday, the youth stuck a needle in his leg and it was necessary to perform an operation at the Orange County hospital last night to remove it. The needle was in the bath tub and part of it broke off after it had entered the youth's leg.

In the past decade, the total mileage of exchange and toll wires in the Bell system has increased more than 200 per cent.

TEUBER DEATH
STATE POLICE

Between those clues, investigators thought they saw the figure of a jealous woman, perhaps a wife who objected to attentions paid the girl by her sailor husband.

Deputies of Sheriff Ed Cooper said the girl had been dragged for some distance to the shelter of the oak tree; that the person who knelt the noose about her neck was not of sufficient strength to pull the body clear of the ground, and that scratches on the body evidently were made by the fingernails of a woman.

As citizens of San Diego talked excitedly of the newest murder, following closely the kidnapping and slaying of 10-year-old Virginia Brooks two months ago, John Brooks, father of the slain girl, was giving police protection from possible revenge.

Disturbing rumors of "lynchings" pervaded east San Diego district where the Brooks family lives when it was reported that a radio station had broadcast a story that Brooks had confessed to the murder of his daughter. The entire Brooks family was hidden as a precautionary measure.

WIFE READY TO BUY FREEDOM
FOR HUSBAND

It was learned that he owned a yellow automobile similar to one containing six men which crossed the Lewis and Clark bridge over the Mississippi river Monday night.

Leonard was last arrested in connection with the kidnapping of Michael Katz, millionaire drugist of Kansas City in March, 1930.

All day yesterday, fashionably dressed society matrons, friends of Mrs. Kelley called at her home to extend sympathy. She is the former Kathleen McBride, a daughter of William Cullen McBride, multimillionaire oil magnate who died in 1917. Her fortune is estimated at several millions.

The two young children of the Keleys, Anne and Mary Ellen were taken from the private school they attend to the home of a friend, after being informed of their father's disappearance.

In the Kelley home throughout the night, were several city detectives, lawyers and friends of the family, from a source close to the family it was learned that Mrs. Kelley was willing to "pay any ransom" for her husband's safe return. E. R. Christian, one of the attorneys said today no private attempt to contact with the kidnappers was being made, and police would be notified if they attempted to negotiate.

WALKER, BRIDE PART

NEW YORK, April 22.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion prizefighter, today was separated from his 21-year-old bride to whom he was married 25 days ago. Asked whether he would have the marriage to Clare Helmer annulled on the grounds that he was illegally divorced from his first wife, Walker replied: "I can't discuss it. You know how it is. I can't say a thing."
